—Powell and Whittaker's original method of producing their spectacular war features has been long the talk of the theatrical world. The fighting of battle is so perfect as to stir the blood of old army men, as well as to enthrall the hearts of the young a deeper and stronger respect for the grand old veteran. The days on the frontier, when every white person was a target for the poisoned arrow of the Indian, is realistically portrayed. They also show you scenes from the Civil War. They show you the army maneuvers of the French army, enabling you to compare their riding with our boys in blue, and also the latest corps of the modern army, the Aviators, in their thrilling flights at Fort Meyer.

Regular war formations are made and whole regiments are seen under fire. Cannon belch forth shot and shell, while bombs hurtle through the air leaving a trail of smoke that hangs like a pall over the field of battle. Trees are cut down by bursting shells, and falling to the ground bring down the sharpshooters perched in their branches. A bridge in the background is blown to atoms you not only see it, but you hear the deafening explosion as it hurls hundreds of soldiers to their death. You hear the rumble of cannon and the screech of the shell as it tears through the ranks of infantry. You hear the sharp clanking of steel against steel in the hand to hand combat, where no quarter is given. You hear the pounding on the horses' hoofs in their maddening gallop to the rear with empty saddles.

Powell and Whittaker will present their spectacular War Features for one night only at Daly's theatre, Friday, June 6th.

Memorial Day Observed

Nice Weather Causes a Large Turn-out of People.

The weather on Memorial day was particularly pleasant for outdoor services and a large crowd turned out to go to the cemetery to decorate the soldiers graves and to listen to the program as outlined by the members of the local Grand Army Post.

The band turned out and headed the procession from the G. A. R. Hall to the city hall, and at the latter place, automobiles were in waiting and those in the parade were conveyed to the cemetery. Here the regular services of the Grand Army were held at the grave of the late J. W. Cochran, after which these present returned to the city.

In the afternoon a program was given at the opera house, at which there was a large attendance. The services all passed off in a most satisfactory manner.

Miss Francis Jagodzinski of the town of Sigel and Frank Schmick were united in marriage this morning at nine o'clock at the Catholic church, Rev. Wm. Reding officiating. John Schmick, a brother of the groom, acted as best man and Mrs. Agnes Reinhardt as bridesmaid. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Jagodzinski, in the town of Sigel, to a number of relatives and close friends.

The newly weds took the evening train for Sparta and Milwaukee, where they will spend a week visiting, after which they will go to housekeeping on the west side. Both of the young people have many friends who will unite with the Tribune in extending hearty congratulations.

Wittenberg-Bergen.

Miss Bertha Wittenberg and Albert Bergen, both of this city, were married on Monday evening, Rev. Wm. Nommensen of the west side Lutheran church performing the ceremony that made them man and wife.

The young couple left the same evening on their wedding trip, at the conclusion of which they will make their home at Marietta, Ohio. They are both well and favorably known in this city and the Tribune unites with their many friends in extending the heartiest of congratulations.

Brasted-Wierman.

Henry Wierman of Chicago and Mrs. Minnie Brasted of this city were married on Monday evening at the west side Lutheran parsonage, Rev. Wm. Nommensen performing the ceremony. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hillmer as witnesses. They left the same evening for Chicago where they will make their home.

Wilke-Hirsch.

Frederick Hirsch of this city and Miss Emma Wilke of Merrill were married today, June 4th, at St. John's Lutheran church in the town of Scott, Lincoln county. Mr. Hirsch is well known in this city, having been employed as chauffeur for E. W. Ellis for a number of years past, and is a young man of sterling worth. Mr. and Mrs. Hirsch will make their home in this city.

Looking for a Post Office Site.

Postmaster McDonald put in several days last week looking for a site for the new government building which it is expected will be built here sometime in the future. Prices were obtained on several tracts of land in the neighborhood of the bridge that might prove available altho nothing definite was done about buying, as it will be necessary for the appropriation to be forthcoming before this is done.

Green Bay Wins Game.

The Blommarks from Green Bay came over on Sunday and trimmed the local aggregation of ball tossers to the tune of 6 to 0, the locals never getting a lookin. Only a small crowd turned out to see the game, which was not very encouraging for the boys who are trying to do something in the baseball line.

TWO VICTIMS AT BIRON DAM

Charles Wagner and Albert Mans Met Death by Drowning on Saturday Last.

A double drowning occurred at Biron on Saturday of last week, when Charles Wagner and Albert Mans were carried thru one of the gates near the west end of the dam. The men, with two companions, were ferrying some timbers across the river on a scow, the scow being pushed along with pike poles.

When near the west end of the dam one of the men lost his pike pole by getting it caught on an obstruction in the river, and as the water was quite deep at that place the men were unable to manage the unwieldy scow with the remaining pole and it was drawn thru one of the open gates.

George Marceau and Mike Wolf were the two men on the scow who made their escape, they doing so by jumping into the slack water and escaping the suction of the open gate.

Several workmen and others who were in the vicinity of the place saw the accident and realized the peril that the men were in but before any assistance could be rendered they had been swept over the dam.

An eastern man wrote a tragedy and the manager turned it into a comedy. It is but a step from the sublime to the ridiculous after all.

Messrs. Chas. Kellogg, L. M. Nash, E. C. Rossier, L. M. Alexander, W. J. Conway, Sam Church and F. J. Wood departed this morning for a weeks fishing trip at Boulder Junction.

Walter Demitz, the 14 year old son of Wm. Demitz, who was operated upon about two weeks ago for appendicitis, has since been in a serious condition, and another operation will be performed today.

Mrs. Geo. W. Smith of Seattle, Washington, arrived in the city last week to spend a month visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Briere. Mrs. Smith was formerly Miss Carolyn Briere, and has many friends here.

One of the four wheel drive trucks that is manufactured at Clintonville was on exhibition in this city several days last week. The machine has a capacity of three tons and seemed to impress those favorably who saw it in operation.

Geo. W. Davis went to Milwaukee on Monday to consult a specialist concerning the state of his health which has been anything but good since his recent illness. While able to be about he has not gained strength as he should have done and his trouble seems to battle local practitioners. Mr. Davis was accompanied on his trip by Mrs. Davis.

Supt. Thayer Young of the Water and Electric Light department concluded a deal with Register of Deeds E. E. Ames during the last week by which he becomes the owner of one of the Ames houses on South Cherry street, occupied not long ago by Agent Strouts of the Northwestern line. He expects to move in shortly, bringing his wife and child over from Wausau.—Marshfield Times.

The Equitable Creamery Co. of Ypsen, Wis., will pay two cents above Elgin for butter fat delivered at Ypsen. Cream to test 30 per cent or more, to be in good condition, and to be shipped Tuesdays and Fridays of each week. We will also pay 1/2 cent above Elgin for cream collected by our teams on the routes. This creamery is strictly co-operative being owned entirely by farmers. O. J. Leu Paper Without a Boss—Editor Lindner, who for a few years operated a new paper, The Adams County Herald at the Village of Adams, quietly folded his tent and stole away, leaving the paper without a helmsman. He said nothing to the people of Adams, simply left without ceremony. The progressive citizens of that village can't afford to let the paper die, and some of them have taken hold and will keep the paper alive until a satisfactory arrangement can be made to insure its regular publication. Adams ought to be able to support a paper, and probably would if they could get an editor with more backbone than Lindner seemed to possess.—Neeshah Republican.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED.

Nice Weather Causes a Large Turnout of People.

The weather on Memorial day was particularly pleasant for outdoor services and a large crowd turned out to go to the cemetery to decorate the soldiers graves and to listen to the program as outlined by the members of the local Grand Army Post.

The band turned out and headed the procession from the G. A. R. Hall to the city hall, and at the latter place automobiles were in waiting and those in the parade were conveyed to the cemetery. Here the regular services of the Grand Army were held at the grave of the late J. W. Cochran, after which those present returned to the city.

In the afternoon a program was given at the opera house, at which there was a large attendance. The services all passed off in a most satisfactory manner.

MATRIMONIAL Jagodzinski-Schmick.

Miss Francis Jagodzinski of the town of Sigel and Frank Schmick were united in marriage this morning at nine o'clock at the Catholic church, Rev. Wm. Reding officiating. John Schmick, a brother of the groom, acted as best man and Miss Agnes Reinhardt as bridesmaid. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. TWO VICTIMS AT BIRON DAM

Charles Wagner and Albert Mans Meet Death by Drowning on Saturday Last.

A double drowning occurred at Biron on Saturday last week, when Charles Wagner and Albert Mans were carried thru one of the gates near the west end of the dam. The men, with two companions, were ferrying some timbers across the river on a scow, the scow being pushed along with pike poles.

When near the west end of the dam one of the men lost his pike pole by getting it caught on a obstruction in the river, and as the water was quite deep at that place the men were unable to manage the unwieldy scow with the remaining pole and it was drawn thru one of the open gates.

George Marceau and Mike Wolf were the two men on the scow who made their escape, they doing so by jumping into the slack water and escaping the suction of the open gate.

Several workmen and others who were in the vicinity of the place saw the accident and realized the peril that the men were in but before any assistance could be rendered they had been swept over the dam.

A search was at once started for the bodies of the missing men and that of Charles Wagner was found the following day on the west side of the river about three-quarters of a mile below the dam. The body of Edward Mans has not been recovered at this writing.

Mr. Wagner was a man 34 years of age and leaves a wife and one child to mourn his loss. He was a carpenter by trade and was employed by the Consolidated at construction work on the dam.

Edward Mans was 19 years of age and unmarried.

He came to this city about seven years ago, having been a resident of Pittsville for about fifteen years. Besides his wife and child he has a sister Emma residing at Milwaukee and a brother Max who resides in Milwaukee and William of Pittsville. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon from the home, Rev. Nommensen of the west side Lutheran church conducting the services. Besides the immediate relatives here to attend the funeral there were here Miss Clara Kessen, a cousin, and Miss Minnie Hansen, an aunt, both of Manitowish.

A Narrow Escape. The log jam hit the milk wagon of Fred Garraw ran away on Tuesday and during their mad career struck the buggy belonging to Dr. F. Pomalinville, demolishing the rig. The doctor made a hurried exit from his conveyance just before the two rigs collided and thus saved himself from injury. The runaways were subsequently stopped apparently none the worse for their wild career. Had Dr. Pomalinville not had the presence of mind to jump from his rig there is no doubt but what he would have been injured in the mixup.

New Coal Sheds. The Green Bay & Western will build a new coal shed in this city during the coming summer. There will be installed in it one of the latest improved arrangements for loading, by means of which several minutes can be saved every time a locomotive is coaled. The old shed has about outlived its usefulness and would have needed extensive repairs in the near future, which was one reason for deciding to build a new shed.

Sewer Contract Let. The bids on sewer work for the city were opened on Tuesday and the contract for constructing the Ninth street sewer was let to W. T. Jones and that of the Chestnut sewer to G. O. Weeks. All of the bids on paving were rejected, they being higher than has been paid by other cities for the same work. Mayor Cohen states that he does not propose to have the city of Grand Rapids pay more for this sort of work than other places have done.

Painters Form a Union. The painters of this city held a meeting last week and organized a union, electing T. Allen president, Thos. Ringer secretary and Roy R. R. treasurer. An effort was made to place the minimum wage scale at 30 cents an hour, but it is understood that they were not successful in carrying the proposition.

Broke a Leg. Mrs. Curtis Crockett suffered a fracture of her left leg above the ankle on Tuesday. She was on her way home to Biron when her horse took fright at a passing automobile and as Mrs. Crockett was unable to control the animal she jumped from the buggy, with the result above stated.

Moravian Church. The Scandinavian Moravian Ladies Aid society will meet with Mrs. Chris Hassel on Thursday afternoon.

The Willing Workers will meet with Mrs. Andrew Stone at Biron Thursday evening. Big will leave Chambers livery at 7 o'clock p. m.

Dance at Possley's. There will be a dance at John Possley's place on Wednesday evening June 11th, to which the public is cordially invited. Saccor's orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music for the occasion and a good time is assured to all.

Held a Picnic. The west side Lutheran school held their annual picnic on the river bank south of the Northwestern bridge last Sunday. A program had been prepared for the occasion and a good time is reported.

Moving Picture Show June 6.

Powell and Whittaker's original method of producing their spectacular war features has been long the talk of the theatrical world. The illusion of battle is so perfect as to stir fighting blood of old army men, as well as to enthrall the young. The days on the frontier, when every white person was a target for the poisoned arrow of the Indian, is realistically portrayed. They also show you scenes from the Civil War. They show you the army maneuvers of the French army, enabling you to compare their riding with our boys in blue, and also the latest corps of the modern army, the Aviators, in their thrilling flights at Fort Meyer.

Regular war formations are made and whole regiments are seen under fire. Cannon belch forth shot and shell, while bombs burst through the air leaving a trail of smoke that hangs like a pall over the field of battle. Trees are cut down by bursting shells, and falling to the ground bring down the sharpshooters perched in their branches. A bridge in the background is blown to atoms you not only see it, but you hear the deafening explosion as it leaves a trail of smoke that hangs like a pall over the field of battle. You hear the sharp clanking of steel against steel in the hand to hand combat, where no quarter is given. You hear the pounding on the horses' hoofs in their maddening gallop to the rear with empty saddles.

Powell and Whittaker will present their spectacular War Features for one night only at Daly's theatre, Friday, June 6th.

London is shocked over the way the British nation is taking to gum chewing. But they stick to it.

May Not Buy Plant
It has been suggested by some of our prominent business men that the buying of the electric plant be postponed for a time, and they have been working out a plan by which the Electric & Water Company can be used as a booster organization. Whether the plan will be acceptable or not cannot be told at this writing.

There is one thing certain. The city can gain nothing by taking over the electric plant at this time. The people of Grand Rapids are now getting their electricity at cost, and that is all they could hope to do if the city owned the plant. Then the raising of enough money to buy the plant would put a hamper on the city finances that would effectively put a stop to other improvements that are necessary and very desirable at the present time.

Several plans have been tried for raising money with which to encourage age manufacturing plants to locate here, but none of them have been particularly successful, and if the Electric company could work out a scheme that would be practical it might prove of great benefit to the city.

Addition to Port Edwards Plant.
The Nekosco-Edwards Company has let the contract for a 25-ton bleaching plant, which will be erected during the coming summer. Jacobson & Ackerman of this city have secured the contract for erecting the plant.

A Settlement Made.

Paper Without a Boss.—Editor Linder, who for a few weeks operated a new paper, The Adams County Herald in the Village of Adams, quietly folded his tent and stole away, leaving nothing to the people of Adams, simply left without ceremony. He said progressive citizens of that village can't afford to let the paper die, and some of them have taken hold and will keep the paper alive until a satisfactory arrangement can be made to insure its regular publication. Adams ought to be able to support a paper and probably would if they could get an editor with more backbone than Linder seemed to possess.—Needah Republican.

Nice Weather Causes a Large Turn-out of People.

The weather on Memorial day was particularly pleasant for outdoor services and a large crowd turned out to the cemetery to decorate the soldiers' graves and to listen to the program as outlined by the members of the local Grand Army Post.

The band turned out and headed the procession from the G. A. R. Hall to the city hall, and at the latter place, automobiles were in waiting and those in the parade were conveyed to the cemetery. Here the regular services of the Grand Army were held at the grave of the late J. W. Cochran, after which these present returned to the city.

In the afternoon a program was given at the opera house, at which there was a large attendance. The services all passed off in a most satisfactory manner.

TWO VICTIMS AT BIRON DAM

Charles Wagner and Albert Mann Meet Death by Drowning on Saturday Last.

A double drowning occurred at Biron on Saturday of last week, when Charles Wagner and Albert Mann were carried thru one of the gates near the west end of the dam. The men, with two companions, were foraging some timbers across the river on a scow, the scow being pushed along with pike poles.

When near the west end of the dam one of the men lost his pike pole by getting it caught on an obstruction in the river, and as the water was quite deep at that place the men were unable to manage the unwieldy scow with the remaining pole and it was drawn thru one of the open gates.

George Marceux and Mike Wolf were the two men on the scow who made their escape, they doing so by jumping into the slack water and escaping the suction of the open gate.

Several workmen and others who were in the vicinity of the place saw the accident and realized the peril that the men were in but before any assistance could be rendered they had been swept over the dam.

A search was at once started for the bodies of the missing men and that of Charles Wagner was found the following day on the west side of the river about three-quarters of a mile below the dam. The body of Edward Mann has not been recovered at this writing.

Mr. Wagner was a man 34 years of age and leaves a wife and one child to mourn his loss. He was a carpenter by trade and was employed by the consolidated at construction work on their dam.

Edward Mann was 19 years of age and unmarried.

It came to this city about seven years ago, having been a resident of Pittsville for about fifteen years. A Narrow Escape.
The team hitched to the milk wagon of Fred Garrow ran away on Tuesday and during their mad career struck the bridge belonging to Dr. F. Pomerville, demolishing the bridge. The doctor made a hurried exit from his conveyance just before the two rigs collided and thus saved himself from injury. The runaways were subsequently stopped apparently none the worse for their wild career. Had Dr. Pomerville not had the presence of mind to jump from his rig there is no doubt but what he would have been injured in the mishap.

New Coal Sheds.
The Green Bay & Western will build a new coal shed in this city during the coming summer. There will be installed in it one of the latest improved arrangements for loading by means of which several railroads can be saved every year a locomotive is needed. Sewer Contract Let.
The bids on sewer work for the city were opened on Tuesday and the contract for constructing the Ninth street sewer was let to W. T. Jones and that of the Chestnut sewer to G. O. Weeks.

ADOPT RECESS RESOLUTION

Senate Adopts Plan for Adjourning
Legislature from June 12 to January 13, 1914.

Madison.—The senate by a vote of 20 to 11 has adopted a joint resolution introduced by Senator Scott calling for a recess of the legislature from June 12 to January 13. The assembly laid the resolution over until June 3 and a light is expected on the measure in that body. Followers of the governor are said to be opposing any move to adjourn at the present session.

The Scott resolution enumerates a number of reasons why an adjournment would be advisable. It states that by June 12 the session will already have been longer than was the expectation at the time of convening, and that only a few important measures will remain for final consideration at the proposed date of adjournment. The water power bill, it is stated, will require several weeks more of consideration by the committee and further investigation of the mothers' pension and direct market measures is recommended. Dog tax consideration can be given these and other subjects. The appointment of special joint investigating committees is recommended, and it is stipulated that no matters other than reports from these committees and privileged resolutions shall be considered at the January session except upon unanimous consent of the members present.

In some quarters the governor's vetoes of the Hull marketing bill and the women's suffrage referendum and the defeat of the McGovern marketing bill in the assembly are held to have opened the way for the recess plan. With these important questions removed from the schedule a smoother path for the champions of adjournment is seen.

The defeat of the governor's marketing bill by the assembly came after four hours of debate, the vote standing 30 for and 61 against sending the measure to engrossment. Upon a motion to reconsider, the measure was placed on the calendar for June 3 for final action.

Under suspension of the rules, the assembly passed the Heddington boxing bill. The measure provides for a state commission to regulate boxing bouts, the contests to be no-decision affairs of not more than ten rounds each, and three per cent of the proceeds must go to the state treasury. The bill is a copy of the New York law regulating boxing. Considerable opposition to the bill developed, especially among rural members, who characterized it as virtually legalizing prize fights in Wisconsin.

The senate, by unanimous vote, has confirmed Gov. McGovern's appointment of Clem. F. Host, Milwaukee, as state fire marshal. This action followed a reconsideration in the assembly of the bill proposing a merger of the state fire marshal's office with that of the commissioner of insurance.

WOULD PUT LIMIT ON BANKS

Kaukauna Banker Tells Association
That Law Restricting Number of Institutions Is Needed.

Fond du Lac.—President F. F. Becker of the First National bank of Kaukauna, in addressing the members of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, gathered at the state convention here, declared that there should be a law limiting the number of banks in a community just the same as there is a law limiting the number of saloons. Mr. Becker declared such a law would relieve the banking profession and the public from the ruinous epidemic of starting new banks every time some man gets it into his system that he wants to be a banker, no matter what his qualifications for the undertaking.

TELLS LIQUOR USE

ROOSEVELT IN LIBEL SUIT ADMITS DRINKING LIGHT WINES, DENIES OVER-INDULGENCE.

REVIEWS HIS LIFE STORY

Colonel Declares That in Fifteen Years He Consumed Less Than Dozen Drinks of Whisky, Then by Doctor's Order.

Marquette, Mich., May 26.—"I am not either a total abstainer nor a prohibitionist, but I am very abstemious," this was Theodore Roosevelt's description of himself in relation to intoxicants given on the hearing of his $10,000 libel suit against George H. Newett, editor of the Ishpeming Iron Ore. Newett had editorially charged the former president with getting drunk, and that, not infrequently, Roosevelt denied the truth of this statement flatly and said he had never been drunk in his life.

Colonel Roosevelt told the story of his life and his counsel, Colonel H. Pound, in spite of objections, asked many questions that made the public tell about the various high public offices he had held, his Cuban campaign, his books he had written, his life in the west, and the attempt to assassinate him at Milwaukee.

Mr. Roosevelt said, with great earnestness, that he never drank a high ball or a cocktail in his life; that he had never been under the influence of liquor to the slightest degree and that while not a total abstainer, he was very nearly one. In fifteen years, he declared, he had consumed less than a dozen drinks of doctor's order, and then usually under a doctor's order, the whiskey being measured in a graduated glass. He never took two drinks of glass. He was in the same way, while at state banquets he sometimes took a single glass of champagne in obedience to custom, he never had wine on his private table. On two occasions the colonel had drunk milk juleps after the audience in the courtroom, inasmuch as it brought out no damaging admission. Colonel Roosevelt not only held his own, but seized every opportunity of saying things that strengthened his direct examination and undoubtedly produced as good an effect on the jury as it seemed to do on the people in the courtroom.

The other witnesses examined during the day were men of national prominence who have been intimate with Colonel Roosevelt for years and who testified they had never seen him under the influence of liquor and that he only drank champagne at state banquets, white wine to the extent of one glass at formal dinners, and no alcohol of any kind at his own table.

These witnesses were Jacob Rills of New York, author of "How the Other Half Lives" and prominent as a sociologist and reformer; Dr. Alexander Lambert, a famous physician and allopathic and reformer; Dr. P. M. Hixey, surgeon general of the United States army, retired, and personal physician to Colonel Roosevelt while the latter was president and H. Gilson Gardner, a Washington newspaperman who had been with Mr. Roosevelt on almost all of his campaign trips.

Judge Carpenter of the United States district court of Chicago, appointed receivers for the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad, a part of the "Frisco" system, upon the application of the Railway Steel Spring company. William J. Jackson, vice-president of the road, and Edwin W. Winters of New York, who were named as receivers. Long Beach, Cal., May 27.—While 10,000 persons were assembled on the land end of the big double decked pier in front of the city auditorium in attendance on the celebration of British Empire days that Sunday morning, a disaster occurred. A hundred of persons were plunged down on the heads of other hundreds crowded on the second deck. The lower deck then gave way, and all were dropped down a chute of shattered woodwork to the tide washed sands twenty-five feet below.

Thirty-five persons—mostly women—were killed by the shattering impact, impaled on big splinters or crushed to death by the falling bodies of companions and friends. Fifty more were seriously injured, while hysteria and paralyzing fright disabled scores of others. The platform crumbled without warning like a paper box and in an instant moment there was a writhing mass of humanity crushed beneath a tons of splintered lumber. A panic among the other 7,000 spectators followed and in the wild rush of safety many persons were trampled on and seriously injured.

As most of the old machines have already been licensed the new registrations represent practically the sales of new machines made each day in the state. Registrations this year already exceed the number registered by July 1 a year ago. Apparently the people of Vernon county are generously investing in autos. Former State Treasurer A. H. PRESIDENT DENOUNCES MEN THAT SEEK ALTERATION IN TARIFF BILL.

SPEND MONEY WITHOUT LIMIT

Chief Executive Says All Branches of Government Should Be Relieved From This Intolerable Burden—Declares Public Is Misled.

Washington, May 28.—Lobbyists in general and particularly those who are trying to create an appearance of pressure of public opinion antagonistic to some of the items of the tariff bill, were scathingly denounced Monday by President Wilson.

The president made it plain that he entirely disapproved the methods used to avert congress from support of the bill. At the same time he expressed confidence that the Underwood bill will be passed by the senate in substantially the same form in which it came from the house.

The president issued the following statement: "I think that the public ought to know the extraordinary exertion being made by the lobby in Washington to gain recognition for certain alterations of the tariff bill. Washington seldom has seen so numerous, so industrious or so insidious a lobby. The newspapers are being filled with paid advertisements calculated to mislead the judgment of public men, but also the public opinion of the country itself.

"There is every evidence that money without limit is being spent to sustain this lobby and to create an appearance of pressure of public opinion antagonistic to some of the chief items of the tariff bill. It is of serious interest to the country that the people at large have no lobby, and be voiceless in these matters while great bodies of astute men seek to create an artificial opinion and overcome the interest of the public for their private property. It is worth the while of the people of this country to take knowledge of all its branches ought to be relieved from this intolerable burden, and this constant interruption to the calm progress of debate. I know that in this I am speaking for the members of the two houses, who would rejoice as much as I would to be released from this unbearable situation."

The president made it clear that so far as he is concerned, the letter writing propaganda conducted at the behest of the sugar and wool interests particularly not only met his disapproval, but was having the opposite effect from that intended upon him and upon the Democratic leaders. He indicated that letters are being received from thousands of persons who know nothing about the subject upon which they write, indicating beyond all doubt a concentrated effort by interested persons to influence men in office who are responsible for the proposed legislation. On the other hand, the president admitted frankly that there were certain business men who had a legitimate interest in the wool and sugar items, and who should not be classed in the category of lobbyists.

HOLD "CUT RATES" LEGAL

U. S. Supreme Court Decides Prices Cannot Be Controlled by Patentee of Articles.

Washington, May 28.—Patented articles sold under price restrictions by manufacturers may be resold by retailers at cut rates. The Supreme court Monday so held in the case of a newly patented nerve tonic. Safety razors, talking machines and thousands of other patented articles are affected by the decision.

The court's decision was five to four, with Justice McKenna, Holmes, Lurton and Van Devanter dissenting. Justice Brandeis announced the majority decision, which held that while the patent laws gave the owner exclusive right to "vend" articles, that was not the same as a right to "keep up the price." That, the court held, was not granted by the patent law.

DOINGS AT WASHINGTON.

(By Congressman Clyde H. Tavenner.)

In the election last fall the people elected members of Congress to revise the tariff on sugar and other necessities, downward as one step toward the reduction of the ever increasing cost of living.

Powerful lobbies are now in Washington endeavoring to persuade those members of Congress to break their pledges to the people and betray the consumers of the land, to the end that a few men, already rich beyond the dreams of avarice, may add to their swollen fortunes.

It was to place before this state of affairs that President Wilson used his now famous statement, in which, referring to these lobbies, he said:

"Washington has seldom seen so numerous or so insidious a lobby. There is every evidence that money without a limit is being spent to sustain this lobby and to create an appearance of a pressure of public opinion antagonistic to some of the chief items of the tariff bill."

In order that the public may know all of the facts about the conditions alluded to by President Wilson, I have introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of five members of the House of Representatives to investigate the subject.

The resolution reads as follows: "Whereas, it has been charged by the President of the United States, and there is reason to believe that a powerful and insidious lobby, representing interests hostile to the passage of the pending tariff bill in the form adopted by the House of Representatives, is in existence in Washington, and

Whereas, newspapers are being filled with paid advertisements calculated to create an artificial public opinion against certain items of the tariff bill, and

Whereas, it is charged and there is reason to believe that unlimited funds have been placed at the disposal of this lobby for the purpose of overcoming the interests of the public for the private profit of the interests which they represent, and

Whereas, the public maintains no lobby and is powerless to reply to the paid advertisements of any lobby representing financial interests, and

Whereas, bills are pending in Congress to regulate and control the operation of lobbies at the national capital, and it is advisable to gather any facts bearing on the aforesaid conditions and charges or in any way relating thereto, as a basis for remedial purposes, therefore be it

Resolved, that a special committee of five members be appointed by the speaker of the House of Representatives to sit during the sessions of the House and during the recess of Congress for the purpose of investigating and reporting to Congress the facts in connection with the operation of any lobby or lobbies in Washington; said committee shall inquire into the sources whence any such lobby or lobbies are supplied with funds, and the amount of funds so contributed, and shall also ascertain where and how these funds are expended and for what immediate and ultimate purposes; and shall go into a general inquiry to learn the methods by which any lobby seeks to influence legislation in Congress."

If members of Congress were to allow themselves to be guided by the views of the lobbyists, they would conclude that the people back home were not in good faith when they voted for tariff revision downward. Or, if they were in good faith at the time, that they have since changed their minds, deciding they do not desire the monopolies of the tariff trusts interfered with.

But President Wilson is not being fooled. Nor is the average member of Congress. They know that for every man who beseeches them in Washington to retain the tariff on sugar, there are nine hundred who are not writing letters, but who demand that promises made to them before election be kept after election, and especially the downward revision of the tariff on the vital necessities of life.

President Wilson and the members of Congress also know that every penny of the extra dividends that the lobby interests will make by virtue of legislation granting them special privileges, must come from the pockets of the men, women and children in the districts back home.

It will be recalled that President Taft once faced the same crisis that members of Congress face now. He listened to the voices at his ear in Washington whom the late Senator Dooliver described as "men who knew exactly what they wanted." President Taft forgot the folks at home who do not write letters, and on the very first election day following they got revenge. The lobbyists in Washington whose counsel he had accepted were powerless to save him from the wrath of the home folks who vote, but who maintain no lobbies in Washington.

How to Get Early Sweet Corn.

A contributor to the current issue of Farm and Fireside says:

"Some of the most successful gardeners near Boston have found a good way of getting sweet corn on market early enough to command a fancy price. After thoroughly plowing and harrowing the soil, they turn up ridges the shape of an inverted V where the corn-row is to be.

"The soil thus elevated dries out quickly and absorbs heat much more readily than would a level surface. The seed is planted along the apex of the ridge and germinates promptly into young plants that thrive and ripen about two weeks earlier than the ordinary level-sown method. This plan may be easily adopted in any northern garden where the corn is desired."

Every Inch a President.

Woodrow Wilson has been President nearly two and a half months. Time enough for the test. Daily he has been tested. He has been tested in proving to be every inch a president. When have we had a president so completely given over to the work of his office, so little concerned with the pomp and frills, so keenly human in his interest in folks and yet so inflexible in his moral courage? We do not believe his head has been swelled a bit by the honors of his job, but it is clear that his conscience is getting bigger every minute.

A new man, coming to a new job in a new way with every eye watching for blunders. How calmly, self-confidently yet not in the least boastfully he took hold. He read his message to congress because that was the human way. He sees the senators in the capital and talks to them about the public as man to man. What else is the president's room in the capital for?

And so on, from step to step, each step sure because carefully thought out. To see the self-reliance of it all you would think he had been at that work all his life.

The test of barely two and a half months. The test of a contrast to the start of four years ago when the new president after promising the people to be progressive turned on his third day in the White House to give his full support to Cannon and delivered himself wholly to Aldrich and the plutocratic party in congress.—Wisconsin State Journal.

The New Law of the Road.

A new law has been passed by the legislature to govern present conditions of travel upon the public highways. It clears up some points as to rights in the road which have not been fully or generally understood. The law was approved by the governor May 14, and its provisions are as follows:

Section 1. There is added to the statutes a new section to read: Section 1636-49b. Whenever a person operating a motor vehicle shall meet on a public highway any other person, person, or other draft animal, or other riding animal, or any other vehicle, or the person so operating such motor vehicle or vehicles, or riding or driving a horse, or other draft animal, shall each seasonably turn to the right of the center of the beaten track of such highway so as to pass without interference. Any such person so operating a motor vehicle shall, at the intersection of public highways keep to the right and pass to the right of the section of such highway when turning to the right and pass to the right of the center of such intersection when turning to the left.

Will Advertise Wisconsin Grown and Made Products.

Products "grown in Wisconsin" and articles "made in Wisconsin" will be widely known for their excellence and quality if the plan originated by Andrew W. Hopkins, editor of the Wisconsin Farmer, is adopted by the leading producers and manufacturers of the state.

The plan of the movement is to encourage Wisconsin producers and manufacturers to market only their superior products with "grown in Wisconsin" or "made in Wisconsin" labels on them, and then to acquaint as many as possible of the customers of this country with the excellence of all products bearing this stamp which would stand for superior quality.

Already the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Association, the Wisconsin Potato Growers Association, the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeders Association, the Wisconsin State Horticultural Society, the Wisconsin Cheese Makers Association and the Wisconsin Butter Makers Association and other important organizations of producers and manufacturers have considered the advisability of adopting the plan and several of these associations have officially endorsed this scheme and have had the trade marks designed for them, copyrighted by the federal government and registered by the state, thus making it possible for them to restrain the use of this label and standard except by members of their respective associations, who would agree to pack or market only such products under this label as would be a credit to themselves, their association and the state.

Friedmann Patients Treated. The Friedmann patients treated in New York hospitals under the eye of the federal physicians are not doing well.

It was learned yesterday that of nine out of ten cases at Bellevue hospital the disease, tuberculosis, is progressing in its own way unchecked.

Not only has there been no improvement in the lung condition of the patients but a doctor who has been examining the Friedmann cases constantly since the treatment began, said yesterday that whatever outward gains they have made have been accomplished in spite of the Friedmann injections.

The hospital doctors do not regard this as proof that the Friedmann vaccine is of no value, but they do insist as the government report has already made clear, that the results thus far observed do not yet justify confidence in the remedy.—Milwaukee Free Press.

WOULD MEAN CHEAPER ROADS

Removal of the Asphalt Tariff Would Benefit Wisconsin.

Wisconsin representatives and the senators from this state can strike an effective blow for cheaper good roads and asphalt streets by insisting that the new tariff law shall admit asphalt free of duty. There is no question of protection involved, for there is no lake or natural asphalt in the United States. The competing domestic materials such as oil asphalt and tar are so much lower in price than the imported product that they need no protection. In fact, about all the existing asphalt—$3.00 on refined asphalt and $2.00 on crude—has been done is to buy in these amounts, to the taxpayer's bill for good roads and streets. The tariff tax is not only added to the price of the imported product but it makes it possible for the producers of similar materials to increase their charges as well, without coming into price competition with the imported asphalt.

Some kind of bituminous "binder" to hold the stone in place is used in most roads in these days of heavy traffic. To make roads of this kind as cheap as possible everybody interested in the good roads movement ought to work for tariff-free bitumens.

The saying that will result from the removal of the tariff will not go to the asphalt people. They have promised to reduce their price by the amount of the tariff if it is cut off, and trade considerations would make them true in any case. The saying will go to the taxpayers, who can spend the money on additional construction that they could not otherwise afford, or they can keep the money in their pockets. Their bills for roads and streets have gone up tremendously in recent years; there are millions more to pay and there seems to be no good reason for adding to these millions by continuing the tariff tax on good roads and streets.

Mail Carriers to Report Forest Fires.

The official Postal Guide for May calls the attention of postmasters and rural carriers to an order of the post office department that the carriers report to the proper authorities all forest fires detected along their routes. This order was issued at the request of the secretary of agriculture, Washington.

For several years in some section of the country a sort of informal understanding has existed between national forest rangers and mail carriers with the idea of securing increased fire protection. The marked effectiveness of this co-operation was a strong argument in favor of its extension and official sanction, and was in part responsible for the request of the secretary of agriculture which resulted in the order by the postoffice department.

The plan is for the carrier to report a fire to the nearest forest officer of the route, or if no officer lives on the route, to have him notified by some trustworthy citizen. States and national forests are supplied with post road maps and with postal guides containing the addresses of the different postmasters. The postmasters in turn are supplied by the foresters with the names, addresses and telephone call numbers of forest officers residing on or near the carriers' routes.

Co-operation between rural carriers and federal forest officers will take place in Florida, Arkansas, South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and California. Co-operation with state officers is given in all the New England states, and in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, and California, all these states having established fire protection systems.

The last act in the great drama of the activities of Northern Wisconsin is about to be enacted—the picking up of the "deadhead" logs that have accumulated in the St. Croix river since logging and driving began on that stream. It has often been stated that if the logs in the St. Croix river, left behind from the "years" of the drives of the past half century were to be taken up and used the number of feet of lumber contained therein would be astounding. At last that will be done, and an estimate has been procured as to the number of feet of logs that will be thus gathered from the river's bottom.

Abstracts of Title

No business deal, in which the purchase of Real Estate or the loaning of money on the same is concerned, is too large nor too small to require the furnishing of an Abstract of Title. Having an Abstract of Title is business sense.

No business man considers a Real Estate deal these days without requiring an Abstract of Title. Why? Because so many mistakes exist in the titles to land that an Abstract of Title is the only way of learning the condition of the title. Men who have owned property for years and who have been resting secure that their title to the land was perfect, have found out upon making a sale of the property, and having an Abstract of Title, and in the same, that many mistakes exist in their titles. Some of the mistakes are: sale is long because a purchaser will not wait for the perfecting of the title. Get an Abstract of your title now, have the same examined by a competent attorney and learn if any mistakes exist in your title which would hinder a sale of the property.

And in Abstracts of Title as in everything else, remember that the cheapest is likely to be the most expensive.

RESOLUTION NO. 5.

By Henry Ebbe:

It is hereby resolved that there be appropriated out of the general fund of the County to the towns for state aid roads, the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00), for the purpose of grading, turnpiking, or building stone roads on such places and as each town board may see fit, same to be used in the year of 1913, and the work is to be done under the supervision of the County Highway Commissioner.

Resolution No. 5 was laid over under the rules.

REPORT OF THE COUNTY HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors:

Gentlemen:—In adopting a scheme as to how to get stone hauled this winter, I came to the conclusion that the best results would be secured by having the stone hauled to a landing place, at so much a cord.

I went into the towns where macadamized work is to be done and with the co-operation of the Chairman I ascertained the scarcity and quality of stone, and after doing so I priced what I would pay per cord delivered to the place of landing, and a man to measure and give a receipt for every load as it came. Same was in every instance agreed upon between myself and the Chairman.

This plan gave very good satisfaction as every one who had any stone got a chance to haul regardless of quantity on hand.

I was given to understand, however, by the stone haulers that I did not pay enough. The price set by me was from $2.50 to $3.00 per cord delivered. Most of scaling added amounted to from 7 to 20 cents per cord.

Some towns have no suitable local stone and consequently the surfacing material will have to be shipped in.

A word about our machinery fund may be necessary. As I developed we would get along this summer without dump wagons and other machinery amounting to nearly $800.00.

The reason why I would get along without the dump wagons is that there was so much difference in the opinion of the road builders as to who made the handiest dump wagon. And as John Hintgen, Highway Commissioner of LaCrosse County, had constructed a box to fit on any wagon, estimated cost $25.00 which he liked very well and seemed to think very satisfactory, and as he was getting along with this kind of box for LaCrosse County, I felt that as long as I did not know which was the best I would use Mr. Hintgen's box until such time as I could see the different kinds at work and thereby form my own opinion.

A word about these boxes that I intend to use this summer might be of interest to towns who are hauling road material. I found that would adopt these boxes and furnish them to those who haul sand or gravel, will establish the system of making every team haul the same amount per load, and put a stop to this petty graft perpetrated by some when working for the town of using the shortest planks they have got for bottoms, and 6 or 8 inch side boards to put on their wagons when hauling road material.

Blue print plans and specifications can be secured by the State Highway Commission, of these boxes in 2 yard size.

Another matter that I am in hopes that this Board at the session will take under consideration is the transportation of your Highway Commissioner. At present I am authorized to go most any way I can get around. I have used livery but find this a slow way to almost 17 cents per mile since you last annual meeting, and by adding what my time is worth I wasted while driving a horse, then compare the result with what it costs per mile to run an auto and I think you will not fail to see the economy of using an auto in my work.

Several of our gentlemen have already bought autos. One county is paying their Highway Commissioner 10 cents per mile for the use of his auto in his work which, in my opinion, ought to leave him a profit.

I submitted several questions to three County Highway Commissioners representing LaCrosse, Clark and Marathon County, the contents of which may be useful to you in taking care of this question.

L. AMUNDSON.

On motion the report was accepted and referred to the State Aid Committee.

Supervisor Williams moved that the Public Property Committee be authorized to purchase a desk for use of the Highway Commissioner.

The motion was carried.

By Special Committee:

To the County Board of Wood County:

We, the undersigned members of the special tract indices to whom the matter of investigating the tract indices was referred at the last meeting of the Board, will say that we have personally examined the tract indices in the office of the Register of Deeds and find that the same are unfit for use; that there are numerous mistakes and imperfections in the same; that the same have become worn, over crowded and unserviceable and that in our opinion, new tract indices should be ordered put in and the Government Subdivision in all city and village property should be divided under respective lots and blocks; that the leaves in the present books are all loose, bindings are broken and the leaves are liable to become lost or destroyed and it is a recommendation of your committee that new leaf tract indices be purchased and that, a new and corrected set of indices be arranged and compiled according to this recommendation. Our reason for recommending the loose leaf books is first, as the indices grow additional leaves can be inserted at a nominal expense.

Second, when the covers are worn, new covers can be obtained without the expense of sending the Register of Deeds to Milwaukee with the old volume and having the same rebound for under the law, he must accompany the book when rebound, his expense being borne by the County and your committee would recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Whereas, the existing tract indices in the office of the Register of Deeds have become unfit for use because of mistakes therein and the same being worn out, over crowded and unserviceable. Now, therefore, be it resolved that a new and corrected set of tract indices be arranged and compiled and that the committee of three members be appointed by the Chairman with full power to purchase suitable books therefor, and to contract with any competent person or persons at a price not exceeding five (5c) cents per folio to do said work and the work to be done according to such plans as the committee may select.

Dated May 8th, 1913.

Reminiscences of the Horse Trader.
(By D. H. George.)
John Soriano of central Iowa had been a itinerant horse trader. For years he had piled his trade through the central states, finding ever and anon the susceptible victim who succumbed before the wit of clever artifice, skillfully concealed blunders, or clever jockeying, and purchased some of Soriano's temporarily repaired mongrels. Soriano is proud of his skill in doctoring and duping worthless horses into presentable animals, and quite the reverse of the general run of his tribe, will talk about the subtleties and tricks he employed in hoodwinking a credulous public.
"One of my best stunts," said John, was to inflate with air the atrophied shoulder of a sweet horse. "The shoulder would be rounded out and look as strong and healthy as ever. The only way one could detect this corrective was by a crackling sound which resulted when one would run his hand over the repaired part."
"I never shall forget the deal I put over on some Illinois farmers who desired to purchase a pure-bred stallion and form a co-operative community breeders' club," continued the gypsy. "The previous fall I had picked up a good grade Percheron and had taken fine care of him during the winter so that he was in spick-span shape for spring service. Through a friend of mine, I obtained an elegant new certificate of the French Percheron Society all covered with gold seals and blue ribbons which fitted my stallion to a T."
"The jay-hawkers from the Sucker State took one look at that pedigree after they had carefully examined and tested the stud, and then handed me a check for $2500. Pretty sharp practice I call that when you can buy a horse for $500, keep him over winter and sell him for $2500 the next spring. The joke is, to this day those farmers are not wise to the ringer they purchased."
"It is a common trick of our trade to use fake pedigrees. By changing the number or by buying a bunch of fake pedigrees from France we were always able to materially increase a drafter's value. Another gill-netted proposition was to buy up the pedigrees of dead stallions and mares and use them for bogus animals which corresponded in general conformation quality and size to the animals described in the documents."
"Tacking on a counterfeit tail where the original was scrubby and delapidated; cutting out a nerve to remedy lameness; changing a horse's color by a judicious use of dyes; doping up a blind eye so that the average prospective purchaser would not notice the defect; temporarily remedying string-bait, distemper, blind staggers, cribbing, roaring, switching; including artificial knee action and many similar corrective measures are practiced by the dishonest gypsy or unscrupulous horse trader."
"The old gag of plugging a rooster by inserting a sponge in the nostrils or fastening a spring truss to the nose-band of the bridle in such a way that it pressed upon the false nostrils, thereby lessening the intake of air when the horse was in motion, is still commonly practiced. A horse addicted to continued switching is cured for a time by tying his tail up over his back as tightly as possible so that the muscles become so numb that the horse cannot move the tail for a day or so."
"According to Dr. A. S. Alexander, the leading veterinarian, an old "gyp" trick in hiding a spavin was to beat one hock joint with a stick so that it would swell and acquire the same size as the hock unsound from the spavin. Some dealers temporarily make a horse desist from cribbing by driving hardwood wedges between his front incisor teeth, while another cruel practice is to saw between his teeth in order to render the mouth so sore that cribbing will not be attempted."
"Another dishonorable subterfuge sometimes resorted to consists in cutting gashes on the hoof head just over prominent side-bone so that when the wounds heal leaving large scars, the side-bones may be attributed to wire cuts."
"The gypsies made efficient use of an old dye formula for disguising the identity of a horse. The concoction was composed of quicklime, litharge and lye; its use was attended by a black discoloration, according to Soriano's testimony.
"Temporary blindness is often induced in equine beasts by chewing whole flaxseed to a pulp and smearing it in the animal's eye or by the administration of certain drugs. Moon-blindness is often cleared up for a time by the use of such powerful drugs as atropia, belladonna, eserine or nitrate of mercury," resumed Soriano. "Sometimes a fine silk thread may be forced running under the horse's forelock from ear to ear to prevent them from lopping over, or a leaden bullet may be suspended by a silk thread in the hollow of the ear to prevent its constant motion."
"A noteworthy case is that of Peatum, an English horse seventeen years old, which was sold in Moscow, Russia, for $2500, being represented as a six-year-old. J. C. Knowlson, an English farrier, bled this horse's mouth; that is, he filed the tusks shorter, rounded them at the ends, abstracted a little from the nook teeth so as to make them hollow and then burned them with a hot iron. This process of dental forgery completely eradicated the marks indicative of the horse's true age and makes him appear considerably younger."
"Dr. Alexander narrates several good "hoss" stories which go to confirm the story of Soriano, as follows: "A New Hampshire dealer was 'burned' by trading for a horse that would work anywhere and pull strongly except when he came to the foot of a hill; there he would balk and refuse to pull a pound. After he had kept the horse for about a month a stranger came along and was 'taken in.' The horse looked well and a trade was made for another horse and considerable 'boot.' The buyer asked the dealer if the horse was a good worker and was told, 'You bet! He will work any place you put him and when you come to the foot of a hill I tell you he's right there.'"
"So the buyer discovered, and on complaining bitterly to the dealer was told of the latest horse honesty and candor in stating that at the foot of a hill the horse would always be right there. No doubt the disgruntled purchaser paid more particular attention to the plausible talk of the dealer the next time he had occasion 'toicker for a 'hoss.'"
"There lived in Michigan a shrewd old horse dealer who gave folks due warning to beware when he donned his selling clothes. He used to say: 'When I say "Hoss," look out! I'm a goin' to trade. But when it's "Horse," nawthin' done! Ye're perfectly safe.' "It is related that this character had

Being interested in the schools of our county, and especially in our county graduates of the public schools and as the pupils who have taken this diploma examination will soon be notified of their work done, whether they have passed or not, as I took up my home paper "The Morrison, Ill., Sentinel," and read the account of the exercises of county graduates, 1200 being present. I wished that our county graduates had this same chance to "show themselves off" and I know they can give as good account of themselves as the boys and girls did there. The graduation exercises can be made very supporting and can be arranged very easily. The graduates each giving a quotation but the two who receive the highest average to prepare short essays, some music and singing by someone outside the school, a short address by some educator, making a very pleasant afternoon, which will be enjoyed by all and will always be remembered as a bright day in their lives. I hope our Supt. Mr. Varney will take this up and arrange for a graduation day for the diploma graduates by the last of June.

Land of Our Forefathers.
For myself I can truly say that after my native land I feel a tenderness and a reverence for that of my fathers. The pride I take in my own country makes me respect that from which we are sprung. The sound of my native language beyond the sea is a music to my ears beyond the richest strains of Tuscan softness or Castilian majesty.
I am not—I need not say I am not—the panegyrist of England. I am not dazzled by her riches nor awed by her power. The scepter, the miter and the coronet, stars, garters and ribbons seem to me poor things for great men to contend for.
But England is the cradle and the refuge of free principles, though often persecuted; the school of religious liberty, the more precious for the struggles through which it has passed; she holds the tombs of those who have reflected honor on all who speak the English tongue; she is the birthplace of our fathers, the home of the Pilgrims; it is these which I love and venerate in England.
I should feel ashamed of an enthusiasm for Italy and Greece did I not also feel it for a land like this. In an American it would seem to be degenerate and ungrateful to hang with passion upon the traces of Homer and Virgil and follow without emotion the rarer and plainer footsteps of Shakespeare and Milton. I should think him cold in love for his native land who felt no melting in his heart for that other native country which holds the ashes of his forefathers—Edward Everett.

Mortgages as Investments.
While the operation and effect of the real estate mortgage is familiar to every one, the nature of the lien conferred by the mortgage is not equally well understood. A mortgage is, in effect, a conveyance of property by the owner to the lender. It is in form and in effect, a deed similar to the 'ordinary instrument' by which property is conveyed from one person to another, but with this condition, that the creditor holds the title to the property, as trustee for the owner, the conditions of the trust being that if the debt to secure which the conveyance is made is not paid at maturity, or if any other covenant in the mortgage is broken by the lender, the trust, which up to that time has been a "passive" trust, becomes active, and the lender known as the mortgagee, asserts his title to the property and forces its sale. The agreement between the parties binds the borrower, or owner of the property, not only to the payment of interest and principal, but also by certain other covenants of great importance to the security of the debt. For example, the owner must insure the property and make the policies payable to the lender; he must also pay the taxes and produce the tax receipts to the holder of the mortgage since a failure to pay taxes might result in a sale of the property by the state, which would deprive the lender of his security. The borrower also agrees to keep the property in good repair, and not to sell any portion of it without the consent of the lender who will, of course, not allow such a sale to be made unless the proceeds are applied either to the liquidation of the debt, or to the purchase of new property of equal value to that sold. This mortgage or conditional deed conveying the title to real property to the lender is given to secure a debt in the form of a bond. This bond is a simple promise to pay a definite sum of money with interest, at a certain date in the future, and is signed by the owner of the property.
The form, therefore, known as the real estate mortgage, comprises two contracts; first, a contract to pay money, and second, a conveyance of real estate to secure the fulfillment of a contract to pay money. When these conveyances, otherwise known as the mortgage, are copied into a book of record, kept in a public office for the inspection of all those who may be interested, it fixes the title of the mortgage holder as against all the world. The owner of the property, who is in possession so long as he carries out his agreements with the lender, is free to sell the property, but he must sell it subject to the right of the lender to enforce the provisions of his contract. It is impossible, in any other way than by a tax sale, to separate the interests of the lender from the property to which that interest attaches—Edward Sherwood Mead in May Lippincott's.

The rapid increase in dietetic knowledge has created a desire to replace dyspeptic-inducing animal fats, the products of the slaughter house, with a pure vegetable oil for culinary purposes.

Much of the superiority of French and Italian cooking is due to the use of olive and other vegetable oils. This is one reason why the French and Italians will never be classed as a race of dyspeptics.

Since 1900 the Southern Cotton Oil Company, using exclusively the Wesson process in refining its oils, has been enabled to offer in the well known Wesson Oil, a chemically pure, odorless and tasteless product, suitable for all culinary purposes.

The Irresistible Power of Small, Regular Savings.
Do you remember Wilkins Micawbers economic summary? In effect it was this: Income $100 a year, outgo $99.95—result happiness. But, income $100, outgo $100.95—result, misery. It seems impossible to many that a nickel, one way or the other, can make any difference. But the extraordinary power of the regular savings of any small amount of money cannot be appreciated until you do a little figuring. Suppose, for example, you saved and put away five cents a day, depositing each dollar in this bank as fast as you saved it, and receiving 3 per cent interest compounded twice a year. In ten years that nickel a day would be $214.12 in ready cash to your credit, and that account would be rolling up like a snow ball. And if you could do this with a nickel a day, what could you do with ten cents a day, or a dollar a week?
Get one of these Home Savings Banks and try. You will be happily surprised.

In the section last fall the people elected members of Congress to revise the tariff on sugar and other necessities, downward as one step toward the reduction of the ever increasing cost of living.

Powerful lobbies are now in Washington endeavoring to persuade these members of Congress to break their pledges to the people and betray the pledges to the land, to the end that a few men, already rich beyond the dreams of avarice, may add to their swollen fortunes.

It was to place before this state of affairs that President Wilson used his now famous statement in which, referring to the people and betray the pledges to the land, to the end that a few men, already rich beyond the dreams of avarice, may add to their swollen fortunes.

Every Inch a President. Woodrow Wilson has been President nearly two and a half months. Time enough for a test, and how well he has stood the test. Daily he is proving to be every inch a president.

When have we had a president so completely given over to the world of his people as this little concerned with his pomp and trills, so keenly human in his interest in folks and yet so inflexible in his moral courage? We do not believe his head has been swayed a bit by the honors of his job, but it is clear that his heart is getting bigger every minute.

A new man, coming to a new job in a new way with every eye watching for blunders. How calmly, so confidently, yet not in the least boastfully he took hold. He read his message to Congress because that was the age in human way. He talks to them about the duties of a president, but what else is the president's room in the capitol for?

The test of barely two and a half months. Yet what a contrast to the start of four years ago when the new president after promising the people to be progressive turned on his third day in the White House to give his full support to Cannon and delay the full support to Aldrich and delay the plutocratic party congress. Wisconsin State Journal.

The New Law of the Road. A new law has been passed by the legislature to govern present conditions of travel upon the public highways. It clears up some points as to rights in the road which have not been fully or generally understood. The law was approved by the governor May 14, and its provisions are as follows:

Section 1. There is added to the statutes a new section to read: Section 1636-1641. Whenever a person operating a motor vehicle shall meet on a public highway any other person riding or driving a horse or other draft animal, or any other vehicle, the person so operating such motor vehicle or vehicles, or riding or driving a horse, or other draft animal, shall each separate turn to the right of the center of the beaten track of such highway so as to pass without interference. Any such person so operating a motor vehicle or motorcycle shall, on overtaking any such horse, draft animal or other vehicle, pass to the left side thereof, and the rider or driver of such horse, draft animal or other vehicle shall as soon as possible and with all convenient speed, upon signal, turn to the right of the center of the beaten track of such highway so as to allow free passage on the left, and if necessary on account of road condition, such driver of said motor vehicle shall stop for sufficient length of time to allow said automobile to pass. Any such person so operating a motor vehicle shall, at the intersection of public highways keep to the right and pass to the right of the section of such highway when turning to the right and pass to the right of the center of such intersection when turning to the left.

Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than three months.

Will Advertise Wisconsin Grown and Made Products. Products "grown in Wisconsin" and articles "made in Wisconsin" will be widely known by their excellence and quality if the plan originated by Andrew W. Hopkins, editor of the Wisconsin Farmer, is adopted by the leading producers and manufacturers of the state.

The plan of the movement is to encourage Wisconsin producers and manufacturers to mark only their products with "grown in Wisconsin" or "made in Wisconsin" labels or trade marks distinctly stamped upon them and then to acquaint as many as possible of the customers of this product with the excellence of all products bearing this stamp which would stand for superior quality.

Already the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Association, the Wisconsin Potato Growers Association, the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeders Association, the Wisconsin State Horticultural Society, the Wisconsin Cheese Makers Association, the Wisconsin Butter Makers Association and other important organizations of producers and manufacturers have considered the advisability of adopting the plan and several of these associations have officially endorsed this scheme and have had the trade marks designed for them, copyrighted and registered by the state, thus making it possible for them to restrict the use of this label and standard except by members of their respective associations who would agree to pack or crate and market only such products under this label as would be a credit to themselves, their association and the state.

Friedmann Patients. The Friedmann patients treated in New York hospitals under the eye of the federal physicians are not doing well.

It was learned yesterday that in nine out of ten cases at Bellevue hospital the disease, tuberculosis, is progressing in its own unchecked way. Not only has there been no improvement in the lung condition of the patients but a doctor who has been examining the Friedmann cases constantly since the treatment began, said yesterday that whatever outward gains they have made have been accomplished in spite of the Friedmann injections.

The hospital doctors do not regard this as proof that the Friedmann vaccine is of no value, but they do insist as the government report has already made clear, that the results thus far observed do not yet justify confidence in the remedy. Milwaukee Free Press.

WOULD MEAN CHEAPER ROADS

Removal of the Asphalt Tariff Would Benefit Wisconsin.

Wisconsin representatives and the senators from this state can strike an effective blow for cheaper good roads and asphalt streets by insisting that the new tariff law shall admit asphalt free of duty.

There is no lack of natural asphalt in the United States. The competing domestic materials such as oil asphalt and tar are so much lower in price than the imported product that they need no protection. In fact, about all the existing tariff—$3.00 a ton on refined asphalt and $1.50 on crude—has done is to result in increased cost to the taxpayer's bill for good roads and streets. The tariff tax is not only added to the price of the imported product but it makes it possible for the producers of similar materials to increase their charges as well, without coming into price competition with the imported asphalt.

Some kind of bituminous "under" to hold the stone in place is used in most roads in this state. It is used in the form of a heavy layer of heavy asphalt or cheap asphalt of this kind as cheap as possible everybody interested in the good roads movement ought to work for tariff-free bitumen.

The saving that will result from the removal of the tariff will not go to the asphalt people. They have promised to reduce their prices by the amount of the tariff if it is cut out, and trade considerations would make them do this in any case. The saving will go to the taxpayers, who can spend the money on additional construction that they could not otherwise afford, or they can keep the money in their pockets. Their bills for roads and streets have gone up tremendously in recent years, and there seems to be no reason for adding to these millions by continuing the tariff tax on good roads and streets.

Mail Carriers to Report Forest Fires. The official Postal Guide for May calls the attention of postmasters and rural carriers to an order of the post office department that the carriers report to the proper authorities all forest fires detected along their routes.

The order was issued at the request of the secretary of agriculture, Washington.

For several years in some section of the country a sort of informal understanding has existed between national forest rangers and mail carriers. The protection of the national forests is a co-operation was a strong argument in favor of its extension and official sanction, and was in part responsible for the request of the secretary of agriculture which resulted in the order by the postoffice department.

The plan is for the carrier to report a fire to the nearest forest officer of the route, or if no officer lives on the route, to have him notified by some responsible citizen. State and national foresters are supplied with post road maps and with postal guides containing the addresses of the different postmasters. The forest officers in turn are supplied by the foresters with the names, addresses and telephone call numbers of forest officers residing on or near the carriers' routes.

Co-operation with state officers is given in all the New England states, and in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and California.

Dead-Heads Are Being Lifted From St. Croix. The last act in the great drama of the activities of Northern Wisconsin is about to be enacted—the picking up of the "deadheads" logs that have accumulated in the St. Croix river since logging and driving began on that stream. It has often been stated that if the logs in the St. Croix river, left behind from the "rears" of the drives of the past half century were to be taken up and used the number of feet of lumber contained therein would be astounding. At last that will be done, and an estimate has been approximated as to the number of feet that will be thus gathered from the river's bottom.

Abstracts of Title. No business deal, in which the purchase of Real Estate or the loaning of money on the same is concerned, it is too large nor too small to require the furnishing of an Abstract of Title. Having an Abstract of Title is business sense.

No business man considers a Real Estate deal these days without requiring an Abstract of Title. Why? Because so many mistakes exist in the titles to land that an Abstract of Title is the only way of learning the condition of the title. Men who have owned property for years and who have been resting secure that their title to the land was perfect, have found out upon making a title of the property, and having an Abstract of Title made of the same, that many mistakes exist in their titles. Some of the mistakes take months to correct and frequently a sale is lost because the purchaser will not wait for the perfecting of the title. Get an Abstract of your Title now, have the same examined by a competent attorney and learn if any mistakes exist in your title which would hinder a sale of the property.

A sale is lost because the purchaser will not wait for the perfecting of the title. Get an Abstract of your Title now, have the same examined by a competent attorney and learn if any mistakes exist in your title which would hinder a sale of the property.

And in Abstracts of Title as in everything else, remember that the cheapest is likely to be the most expensive.

While it is undoubtedly the rule of law that money raised for the special purposes "is a trust fund and equity in a proper case interfere to prevent its diversion." 143 Wis. at 647. Still, in the present case no attempt is made to divert any special fund. The County Board at the November session levied $5,000 for general purposes and from the report of the County Treasurer, there is sufficient of this general fund in the treasury to cover this appropriation and even if there were not, would be inclined to the same opinion under the rule in the above case. 100 Wis. at 86, where the court held that the power to incur the work gives the board the power to later, levy the tax to pay for the same.

First. In justice to some of the members to whom I made an oral report yesterday, with whom the County does the work with the state's aid, the state pays one third and the County two-thirds. Section 1317 M-5, 1 and Section 1317 M-8, 1, state that never, under any case paying over one third and it makes no difference whether the work is done by the County alone or by the County and Town.

Second. Under the ruling of the Attorney General, the state has no authority to authorize the county or town to loan the state its share of the cost and to receive the same back from the state after the state levy is made and under this ruling, any work done by the county this summer will be at the sole cost of the county without any aid from the state.

Yours very truly,
CHAS. E. BRIERE,
District Attorney, Wood Co.

Senate Adopts Plan for Adjourning
January 13, 1914.

Madison.—The senate by a vote of 11 to 1 has adopted a joint resolution introduced by Senator Scott calling for a recess of the legislature from June 12 to January 13. The assembly laid the resolution over until June 3 and a fight is expected on the measure in that body. Followers of the governor are said to be opposing any move to adjourn at the present session.

The Scott resolution enumerates a number of reasons why an adjournment would be advisable. It states that by June 12 the session will already have been longer than was the expectation at the time of convening, and that only a few important measures will remain for final consideration at the proposed date of adjournment. The water power bill, it is stated, will require several weeks more of consideration by the committee and further investigation of the mother's pension and direct marketing measures is recommended. Better consideration can be given these and other subjects if a recess is taken, is the contention. The appointment of special joint investigating committees is recommended, and it is stipulated that no matters other than reports from these committees and privileged resolutions shall be considered at the January session except upon unanimous consent of the members present.

In some quarters the governor's veto of the Hull marketing bill and the women's suffrage referendum and the defeat of the McGovern marketing bill in the assembly are held to have opened the way for the recess plan. With these important questions removed from the schedule a smoother path for the champions of adjournment is seen.

The defeat of the governor's marketing bill by the assembly came after four hours of debate, the vote standing 20 for and 41 against sending the measure to congress. Upon a motion to reconsider, the measure was placed on the calendar for June 3 for final action.

Under suspension of the rules, the assembly passed the Heding boxing bill. The measure provides for a state commission to regulate boxing bouts, the contests to be no-decision affairs of not more than ten rounds each, and three per cent of the proceeds must go to the state treasury. The bill is a copy of the New York law regulating boxing. Considerable opposition to the bill developed, especially among rural members, who characterized it as virtually legalizing prize fights in Wisconsin.

The senate, by unanimous vote, has confirmed Gov. McGovern's appointment of Clem P. Host, Milwaukee, as state fire marshal. This action followed defeat in the assembly of a motion to reconsider the killing of the bill proposing a merger of the state fire marshal's office with that of the commissioner of insurance.

Kaukauna Banker Tells Association
Institutions Is Needed.

Fond du Lac.—President F. F. Becker of the First National bank of Kaukauna, in addressing the members of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, gathered at the state convention here, declared that there should be a law limiting the number of banks in a community just the same as there is a law limiting the number of saloons. Mr. Becker declared such a law would relieve the banking profession and the public from the ruinous epidemic of starting new banks every time some man gets into his system that he wants to be a banker, no matter what his qualifications for the undertaking.

TELLS LIQUOR USE

ROOSEVELT IN LIBEL SUIT ADMITS DRINKING LIGHT WINES, DENIES OVER-INDULGENCE.

REVIEWS HIS LIFE STORY

Colonel Declares That in Fifteen Years He Consumed Less Than Dozen Drinks of Whisky, Then by Doctor's Order.

Marquette, Mich., May 29.—"I am not either a total abstainer nor a prohibitionist, but I am very abstemious," this was Theodore Roosevelt's description of himself in relation to intoxicants as given on the witness stand Tuesday in the hearing of his $10,000 libel suit against George Newett, editor of the Ishpeming Iron Ore. Newett had editorially charged the former president with getting drunk, and that not infrequently Roosevelt denied the truth of this statement daily and said he had never been drunk in his life.

Colonel Roosevelt told the story of his life and his counsel, James H. Pound, in spite of objections, asked many questions that made the colonel tell about the various high public offices he had held, his Cuban campaign, the books he had written, his life in the west, and the attempt to assassinate him at Milwaukee.

Mr. Roosevelt said, with great earnestness, that he never drank a high ball or a cocktail in his life; that he had never been under the influence of liquor to the slightest degree and that, while not a total abstainer, he was very nearly one. In fifteen years, he declared, he had consumed less than a dozen drinks of whisky, and then usually under a doctor's order, the whisky being measured in a graduated glass. He never took two drinks of whisky in the same day and, while at state banquets he sometimes took a single glass of champagne in obedience to custom, he never had wine on his private table. On two occasions the colonel had drunk mint juleps away from Washington, but the counsel brought out the fact that one of these occasions was in St. Louis and the other at Little Rock.

The cross-examination of Colonel Roosevelt by Attorney Horace A. Andrews of Cleveland was disappointing to the audience in the courtroom, inasmuch as it brought out no damaging admission. Colonel Roosevelt not only held his own, but seized every opportunity of saying things that strengthened his direct examination and undoubtedly produced as good an effect on the jury as it seemed to do on the people in the courtroom.

The other witnesses examined during the day were men of national prominence who have been intimate with Colonel Roosevelt for years and who testified that he had never been under the influence of liquor and that he only drank champagne at state banquets, white wine to the extent of one glass at formal dinners, and no alcohol of any kind at his own table.

These witnesses were Jacob Rile of New York, author of "How the Other Half Lives" and prominent as a sociologist and reformer; Dr. Alexander Lambert, a famous authority on alcoholic and drug diseases and physician to the Roosevelt family; Dr. P. M. Ruxey, surgeon general of the United States army, retired, and personal physician to Colonel Roosevelt while the latter was president and H. Gilson Gardner, a Washington newspaper man who had been with Mr. Roosevelt on almost all of his campaign trips.

St. Louis, May 29.—United States Judge Sanborn Tuesday appointed two receivers for the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, known as the 'Frisco system, upon application of the Northern American company. The inability of the 'Frisco system to meet the $2,250,000 five per cent. two year notes maturing June 1 brought about the financial difficulties of the system.

Many Women Are Victims—Disaster Occurs During Celebration by English Subjects.

Long Beach, Cal., May 27.—While 10,000 persons were assembled on the land end of the big double decked municipal pier in front of the city auditorium in attendance on the celebration of British Empire days that suddenly collapsed Saturday with awful results.

Hundreds of persons were plunged down on the heads of other hundreds crowded on the second deck. The lower deck then gave way, and all were dropped down a chute of shattered woodwork to the tide washed sands twenty-five feet below.

Thirty-five persons—mostly women—were killed by the shivered timbers, impaled on big splinters or crushed to death by the falling bodies of companions and friends. Fifty more were seriously injured, while hysteria and paralyzing fright disabled scores of others.

The platform crumbled without warning like a sugar box and in another moment there was a writhing mass of humanity crushed beneath the tons of splintered lumber. A panic among the other 7,000 spectators followed and in the wild rush of safety many persons were trampled on and seriously injured.

VETO FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE BILL

Governor Withholds Approval of Glenn Measure.

HOUSE KILLS MARKET BILL

McGovern's Plan to Control Monopoly and Encourage the Co-Operative Movement by Regulation of Trade Fails.

Madison.—The Mahon bill to create a state marketing commission for the regulation of trade was indefinitely postponed by the assembly by a vote of 51 to 30. The bill was Governor McGovern's instrument in an effort to control monopoly and to encourage the co-operative movement, and had attained considerable prominence in many states as a proposed solution.

McGovern has vetoed the Glenn bill permitting people to vote on the subject of woman suffrage at the fall election of 1914. There is still another woman's bill in the legislature, which was laid on the table at the request of Assemblyman Hans M. Laurson. It is now proposed to take this bill from the table and make it conform with the objection raised by the governor in vetoing the Glenn bill.

The governor points out that the state defeated the subject of woman suffrage by an overwhelming vote last fall and suggests that "to re-submit precisely the same question to the voters at the approaching state election cannot be justified."

"If there be a reconsideration of the vote upon this matter taken last fall," says the governor, "at an election where the popular vote will be equally large and inclusive. No other course will prove in the end either satisfactory or defensible. There is nothing to prevent the present legislature from doing this by providing now for the resubmission of this question at the presidential election in 1916. If this bill so provided I should sign it; but I cannot approve it in its present form."

Mothers' Pensions on Calendar.
On motion of Assemblyman John L. Schmitz all bills providing for mothers' pensions were placed on calendar. Thursday's calendar for consideration. The Schmitz bill provides for the operation of a mothers' pension system in violation of the state board of control. Its provisions are broad, allowing the employment of nearly 250 officials to properly administer the law. Judge Rosa of Beloit and Assemblyman Hedding of Milwaukee both have bills permitting the administration of the law by the present county and municipal judges. The latter bills carry practically no appropriations. The former will require an appropriation of nearly $100,000. The committee on public welfare, which considered the bills, favors the Rosa measure.

Judge's Son Hit.
The assembly, after another determined fight, passed the McComb bill prohibiting the sons of judges from practicing before their fathers in three circuits in this state judges have sons who are practicing attorneys before them. The bill has been opposed at every stage, but now goes to the senate.

The governor has signed the Linley bill appropriating $10,000 for a legislative investigation on the subject of the white slave traffic in the state. He has signed the Weigert bill for the erection of a state administration building in the city of Milwaukee at an expense of $50,000.

Assembly Passes Six Bills.
The assembly passed the Bingham bill giving common councils power to appoint boiler inspectors; the Harbut bill requiring the establishment of station gates on bridges; the Nye bill providing a method for the collection of delinquent taxes; the Potts bill permitting municipalities to issue bonds against municipally owned plants for extensions and improvement; Senator Teasdale's bill allowing high schools to give courses for the training of teachers, and Dr. Hall's bill providing a method for the organization of land grant banks. The latter bill allows farmers in a community to organize and issue bonds against their farms for the general improvement of their land.

The corn strip fight was practically ended when the assembly refused reconsideration of the Fleming bill. Assemblyman Roosevelt's bill to abolish the primary and election pamphlet, which passed the lower house after a bitter fight several days ago, met its death in the senate.

Signs Bill for $50,000 Building.
Governor McGovern signed the Linley vice commission bill and the Weigert bill providing for an administrative building in Milwaukee, to cost $50,000.

Dauber, William H. Kratzsch and Otilie Kratzsch. The Troy Cheese company, Hudson; capital, $2,500; incorporators, Ira M. Chryst, C. A. Dabbs, J. E. Watkins, Charles L. Sikes and W. P. Laughney. The Frank & Edmunds Shoe company, Milwaukee, an amendment increasing its capital from $250,000 to $750,000.

The Milwaukee Motorhome company, village of East Milwaukee; capital, $20,000; incorporators, H. T. Koehn, Robert Tomsen, and I. M. Burns. The Burlington Hotel company, Alma; capital, $1,000; incorporators, Herman Kuckenbecker, Nels Mayland, and William Ruth. The Troy for County Lumber company, Rib Lake; capital, $10,000; incorporators, P. E. Marcus, Charles Miller, and Le. Miller. The Baumann & Jensen company, Chilton; boots and shoes; capital, $10,000; incorporators, Alvin P. Baumann, Ada M. Baumann, and Arthur C. Jensen.

Officers Chosen by Osteopaths.
The convention of the Wisconsin State Osteopathic association adjourned in Milwaukee.

The final session was devoted to consideration of legislative affairs and a resolution was adopted placing the organization on record as favoring the mixed state board of health, comprising allopaths and osteopaths, rather than the method proposed in some states of having separate osteopathic state bodies.

An informal installation of the newly elected officers followed this work. Dr. W. Shipman of Janesville was elected president of the association, and Dr. Bessie C. Childs of Milwaukee vice-president. Dr. E. J. Elton of Milwaukee and Harriet Whitelore of Wausau were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively. Dr. V. W. Purdy of Stevens Point was elected to the executive board for a term of three years. Dr. S. J. Fayette of Madison was elected to succeed himself for a term of five years as a member of the legislative committee, and Dr. F. A. Wright of Fond du Lac was elected for one year to fill the unexpired term of Dr. Louise P. Crow.

"LOBBY" IS RAPPED

PRESIDENT DENOUNCES MEN THAT SEEK ALTERATION IN TARIFF BILL.

Chief Executive Says All Branches of Government Should Be Relieved From This Intolerable Burden—Declares Public Is Misled.

Washington, May 28.—Lobbyists in general and particularly those who are trying to create an appearance of pressure of public opinion antagonistic to some of the items of the tariff bill, were scathingly denounced Monday by President Wilson.

The president made it plain that he entirely disapproved the methods used to avert congress from support of the bill. At the same time he expressed confidence that the Woodward bill will be passed by the senate in substantially the same form in which it came from the house.

The president issued the following statement: "I think that the public ought to know the extraordinary exertion being made by the lobby in Washington to gain recognition for certain alterations of the tariff bill. Washington seldom has seen so numerous so industrious or so insidious a lobby. The newspapers are being filled with paid advertisements calculated to mislead the judgment of public men, but also the public opinion of the country itself."

"There is every evidence that money without limit is being spent to sustain this lobby and to create an appearance of a pressure of public opinion antagonistic to some of the chief items of the tariff bill. It is of serious import to the country that the people at large have no lobby, and be voiceless in these matters while great bodies of astute men seek to create an artificial opinion and overcome the interest of the public for their private property. It is worth the while of the people of this country to take knowledge of this matter."

"The government in all its branches ought to be relieved from this intolerable burden, and this constant interruption to the calm progress of debate. I know that in this I am speaking for the members of the two houses who would rejoice as much as I would to be released from this unbearable situation."

The president made it clear that, so far as he is concerned, the letter writing propaganda conducted at the behest of the sugar and wool interests particularly not only met his disapproval, but was having the opposite effect from that intended upon him and upon the Democratic leaders.

He indicated that letters are being received from thousands of persons who know nothing about the subject upon which they write, indicating beyond all doubt a concentrated effort by interested persons to influence men in office who are responsible for the proposed legislation. On the other hand, the president admitted frankly that there were certain business men who had a legitimate interest in the wool and sugar items and who should not be classed in the category of lobbyists.

HOLD "CUT RATES" LEGAL

U. S. Supreme Court Decides Prices Cannot Be Controlled by Patented Articles.

Washington, May 28.—Patented articles sold under price restrictions by manufacturers may be resold by retailers at cut rates. The supreme court Monday so held in the case of a newly patented nerve tonic. Safety razors, talking machines and thousands of other patented articles are affected by the decision.

The court's decision was five to four, with Justices McCreagh, Holmes, Lurton and Van Devanter dissenting. Justice Day announced the majority decision, which held that while the patent laws gave the owner exclusive right to "vend" articles, that was not the same as a right to "keep up the price." That, the court held, was not granted by the patent law.

NEW LAWS.
The law regulating the sizes of
trunks that will be carried free as baggage has gone into effect. Hereafter trunks more than 45 inches in size any way will be subject to an
extra charge, and trunks more than 72
inches in size any way will not be carried at all, but must be sent by express or freight.

A change has been made in marriage laws of the state, and hereafter
when a person gets a marriage license
from the county clerk, he will have to make an affidavit to the following:
"that neither of them have been divorced by a decree of any court of this state within one year prior to the date
of such application; that neither of
them is epileptic, insane or idiotic;
that the parties applying are not with-
in the prohibited degree of consanguinity." The affidavit is much stronger than it has been in the past.

According to press reports the postmaster general has ordered the dis-
continuance of the custom of stamping the date of receipt on letters on the back. Hereafter when the local postmaster received a letter on Monday and the addressee did not receive it until the following Friday it was customary to stamp into the outside looby of the postoffice and shake your head at one of the clerks and call him
by his or her proper name, but since
this custom has been discontinued it
will be impossible to saddle the delay
onto anybody in particular, so there
will be no use in kicking.

The C. O. D. feature of the parcel
post law will go into effect on July 1, 1913. The sender of a mailable parcel
upon which the postage is fully pre-
paid may have the price of the article
and the charges thereon collected from the addressee on payment of a fee of ten cents in parcel post stamps
affixed, provided that the amount to be collected does not exceed $100. Such
a parcel will be insured against loss,
without equivalent to its actual value, but not to exceed $50. The sender
of a C. O. D. parcel will be given a receipt showing the office and date of
mailing, the number of the parcel and
the amount due him. C. O. D. parcels will be accepted for mailing at one of the postoffices only and when the office of destination is a money order
office. On delivery of the parcel the amount due the sender will be collected together with a sufficient fee for a money order by which method the price will be returned to the sender.

"Devils of Diplomacy."
French papers say that the Italians,
successors to Machiavelli, are "very
devils of diplomacy," and in coming
to an understanding with Turkey have
left no end of trouble for that unhappy country. These papers say that the Italians have not spared to sow
the seeds of discord between the Arabs of Tripoli and the Turks, that
the Arabs have long been distrustful
of the Turkish troops and have threatened to slaughter them to the last
man if they attempt to leave the country to its enemies and that the government at Constantinople will hardly know how to withdraw its little
army from Africa.

AN ACCOMMODATING RAILWAY.
Soo Line Men Establishing a Reputation for Politeness.
"Twas shortly after mid-day
The Stevens Point-Portage passenger train sped merrily on.

An Amable County metropolis.
Mother Nature, clothed in all her
radiant spring-time attire, beckoned
closer companionship and the lady yielded.

The window was lifted and the woman with a happy and contented mind
drank in the beauties of the outside world.

A gust of wind from the open window relieved her of her new spring
bonnet, fondly cherished, and whisked
it away among the fragrant wild flowers of the right-of-way.

She hastened to convey the sad news
to Conductor Hogan.
"Yes, with all the courtesy of a mil-
lionaire's servant, listened to her hurried and excited tale.

A quick jerk of the rope and the
train was stopped.
The lady made a hasty retreat after
the lost treasure.

Conductor Hogan lit his favorite
cig, picked up a morning paper and sank deep into a cushioned seat.
The lady returned and the train once
more sped on.

"Such is life in reality on the Soo,"
where employees are instructed to be courteous and accommodating to all patrons, lest they find discomfort in travel.

The which is the tale as related by venerable Editor Jim Brown of the Dundee Epitome.

SALVE.
"Take it from me," said Farmer Brown
"You never can capitalize a frown.
The man who gets by in bang-up style
Is the one who is there with the glad-
some smile.

The best business asset for to have
Is a large supply of good old salve.
The feller with his shoes shined up
and neat.

And a good clean shave and a smile
That's sweet.
Is the man for business, you'll agree.
He can charm a bird out a tree,
Of course his compliments ain't all true
If he spreads it on and he spreads it
thick.

He'll get your goat and he'll get it
quick.
If a feller comes 'round with a dark
brown look,
And tries to sell a new-fangled book,
Or a vacuum cleaner or a kitchen sink
You'll show him the door, yes, quick.

Per se ain't got no time for the
grouch's frown
And the feller who wears it'll get turned down.
The feller who works'll win after
awhile,
But you'll get there quicker if you
work and smile."

—Exchange.
Money in Dandelions.
The large market gardens of the
east are cultivating the dandelion
plants for commercial purposes, and
the sale of the "greens" is very profitable. The seeds should be sown this spring, as early as possible, and given
the same cultivation accorded to carrots except they require thinning to ten inches apart. Next spring the leaves will be ready to use, and should
be blanched by placing a covering of
boards, or other materials over the rows. The cultivated kinds are much more tender and less bitter than the wild ones. In forcing beds the seeds
may be started and when large enough
transplanted to the garden rows.
Forcing plants is not recommended,
as the plant should have one years
growth before being used. The field
dandelions are much liked, and are
valuable as table supplies in the spring. The cultivated plant should have a rich, sandy loam soil, but will grow well in good garden soil. Like
the radish, it must grow rapidly to be
good and tender.

Bryan Tells Graduates Faith is Necessary.
"I fear the plutocracy of wealth, I
respect the aristocracy of learning, and I love the Democracy of the heart,"
said Secretary of State William J.
Bryan on Tuesday in a speech at the graduating exercises of Mrs. McNeill's school at New Rochelle, N. Y.

Mr. Bryan labelled his address
"Faith" and spoke of the impossibility of doing anything without this quality.

"The only thing I fear in education,"
until he becomes ashamed of those to whom he was formerly attached. I would rather the head were dull than
the heart cold."

SCANDAL MONGERS BE CAREFUL.
Attacks on the Reputations of Others
is Punishable.
Needah Republican.—At last the cherished endeavor of the village
gossip is doomed. The man or woman
who stabs and knives the reputation
of others by peddling stories around
town, is apt to get into trouble according to a law recently passed by
the legislature, and signed by the governor. The bill provides as follows:
"The amendment, which covers special slander cases, says: 'Any person who shall maliciously speak of or concern-
any person in false or defamatory
words or language, which shall injure
or impair the reputation of such person of virtue or chastity, or which
shall expose him to hatred, contempt
or ridicule, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.'
The law provides that all such slan-
ders shall be deemed malicious if no
justification can be shown, and that
they shall be justifiable when the language charged as slander, false or
defamatory, was true and spoken
with good motive and for justifiable
ends. For conviction, the evidence
of two persons is necessary.
The bill amends the libel law so that
persons who slander maliciously come
under the penalties of the libel statute
and are liable to imprisonment for one
year or a $250 fine.
Isn't that law going to be just terrible to the chroniclers who love to smear slander? We don't suppose the new law will stop the industrious muck-
slingers entirely, but it gives the victim of the affair a chance to come back
and get the satisfaction that rightly
belongs to him. Of course this will not apply in Needah, but we presume
New Lisbon and Friendship and other
towns have gossipers who congregate
for the purpose of peddling the latest
slander obtainable.

Be Independent From Disease.
DON'T BE A SLAVE TO THE
WORN OUT METHODS OF HEALING ANY LONGER—MY CHIROPRACTIC ADJUST-MENT IS THE ONLY WAY OUT.

F. T. HOFF,
Graduate Chiropractor.
Deepest of all desires in the
soul of man is the desire of freedom—which is the desire of life.
And at its fullest and best. Men and women do not desire merely the
freedom which makes life possible, but the freedom which makes life desirable—Perfect
health. Here are a few of the many hundreds of diseases that
my Chiropractic adjustments remove the cause of—the cause
once removed disease cannot exist and thus nature will restore
you to perfect health again.

Asthma, Bronchitis, Heart
Disease, Stomach Troubles, Liver
Troubles, Epilepsy, or Fits, Paralysis, Rheumatism, Lumbago,
Sciatica, Eruptions, Muscular
Troubles, Etc.
Do not get discouraged if your
particular case is not mentioned
here as my Chiropractic Adjustments will remove the cause of
all conditions since the primary
cause of all your ailments is due
to pressure on nerves from the spine. We remove this cause by adjusting the displaced bones
back towards normal thus allowing free flow of nerve force
from the brain and spinal cord
thru the spinal nerves to the organs, supplied by the pinched
nerves.

If you suffer with any of these
diseases or any other disease,
don't continue to berate fate.
We stand ready to demonstrate that Chiropractic Adjustments will insure
you more positive and lasting benefit
than any other system of eradicating
either acute or chronic ailments.
WHY? Because it goes direct to the cause instead of treating the effect.
Chiropractic Science says, "Remove
the cause if you want to get well."
Why so many chronic sufferers in the
world? THERE'S A REASON. Why
are they still seeking relief? THERE'S
A REASON. When Chiropractic opens
up the avenue to health why do they become boosters? There's another reason. The people Chiropractic can do nothing for are—those
who are prejudiced and won't try it;
those who have been sick for years
and expect to get well in a week, and
those who would not be happy if they couldn't complain. To all others we say, try Chiropractic and get well.

The way is open—all you need to do
is to come to my office and investigate
my Chiropractic Science. I will explain to you how Nature will restore
you to health again.

Remember, I do not ask you
what is the matter with you, I will tell you what your troubles
are. Call or write for my pamphlet on the cause of disease and
its removal. Consultation and spinal analysis is free.

Resolution No. 5 was laid over under the rules.

REPORT OF THE COUNTY HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors:

Gentlemen:—In adopting a scheme as to how to get stone hauled this winter, I came to the conclusion that the best results would be secured by having the stone hauled to a landing place, at so much a cord.

I went into the towns where macadamized work is to be done and with the co-operation of the Chairman I ascertained the scarcity and quality of stone, and after doing so I made a list of what I would pay per cord delivered to the place of landing, and a man to measure and give a receipt for every load as it came. Same was in every instance agreed upon between myself and the Chairman.

This plan gave very good satisfaction as every one who had any stone got a chance to haul regardless of quantity on hand.

I was given to understand, however, by the stone haulers that I did not pay enough. The price set by me was from $2.50 to $3.00 per cord delivered. Most of sealing added amounted to from 7 to 20 cents per cord.

Some towns have no suitable local stone and consequently the surfacing material will have to be shipped in.

A word about our machinery fund may be necessary. I underestimated the buying ability of our purchasing committee and I decided we would get along this summer without dump wagons and other machinery amounting to nearly $800.00.

The reason why I would get along without the dump wagons is that there was so much difference in the opinion of the road builders as to who made the handiest dump wagon. And as John Hinggen, Highway Commissioner of LaCrosse County, had constructed a box to fit on any wagon, estimated cost $25.00 which he liked very well and seemed to think very satisfactory, and as he was getting along with this kind of box, I thought I would use Mr. Hinggen's box until such time as I could see the different kinds at work and thereby form my own opinion.

A word about these boxes that I intend to use this summer might be of interest to towns who are hauling road material. I found that would adopt these boxes and furnish them to those who haul clay or gravel, will establish the system of making every team hauling the same amount per load, and put a stop to this petty graft perpetrated by men when working for the town of using the shortest plank they have got for bottoms, and 6 or 8 inch side boards to put on their wagons when hauling road material.

Blue print plans and specifications can be secured by the State Highway Commission, of these boxes in 2 yard size.

Another matter that I am in hopes that this Board at the session will take under consideration is the transportation of your Highway Commissioner. At present I am authorized to go most any way I can get around. I have used livery but find this a slow way to cover my territory and also the most costly, as my livery bills tell us that it averages up to almost 17 cents per mile since your last annual meeting, and by adding what my time is worth I am wasted while driving a horse, then compare the result with what it costs per mile to run an auto and I think you will not fail to see the economy of using an auto in my work.

Several of our committees have already bought autos. One county is paying their Highway Commissioner 10 cents per mile for the use of his auto in his work which, in my opinion, ought to leave him a profit.

I submit several questions to three County Highway Commissioners representing LaCrosse, Clark and Marathon County, the contents of which may be useful to you in taking care of this question.

L. AMUNDSON.

On motion the report was accepted and referred to the State Aid Committee.

Supervisor Williams moved that the Public Property Committee be authorized to purchase a desk for use of the Highway Commissioner.

The motion was carried.

RESOLUTION NO. 12.

By Special Committee:

To the County Board of Wood County:

We, the undersigned members of the special tract indices to whom the matter of investigating the tract indices was referred at the last meeting of the Board, will say that we have personally examined the tract indices in the office of the Register of Deeds and find that the same are unfit for use; that there are numerous mistakes and imperfections in the same; that the same have become worn, over crowded and unserviceable and that in our opinion, new tract indices should be ordered put in and the Government Subdivision in all city and village property should be divided under respective lots and blocks; that the leaves in the present books are all loose, bindings are broken and the leaves are liable to become lost or destroyed and it is a recommendation of your committee that new leaf tract indices be purchased and that a new and corrected set of indices be arranged and compiled according to this recommendation. Our reason for recommending the loose leaf books is first, as the indices grow additional leaves can be inserted at a nominal expense.

Second, when the covers are worn, new covers can be obtained without the expense of sending the Register of Deeds to Milwaukee with the old volume and having the same rebound for under the law, he must accompany the book when rebound, his expense being borne by the County and your committee would recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Whereas, the existing tract indices in the office of the Register of Deeds have become unfit for use because of mistakes therein and the same being worn out, over crowded and unserviceable. Now, therefore, be it resolved that a new and corrected set of tract indices be arranged and compiled and that the committee of three members be appointed by the Chairman with full power to purchase suitable books therefor, and to contract with any competent person or persons at a price not exceeding five (50) cents per folio to do said work, the work to be done according to such plans as the committee may select.

Dated May 8th, 1913.

F. L. Rourke, F. J. Kraus, Wm. Hooper.

On motion Resolution No. 12 was laid over until tomorrow.

Madison, Wis., April 25, 1913.

Mr. F. H. Eberhardt,

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Dear Sir:—The Wisconsin Highway Commission has determined to establish headquarters for the Grand Rapids division at your county seat. As there is no appropriation available for office rent, we thought it possible that your county board might permit us to use a room or a part of a room in the court house as division headquarters.

The space necessary would be very small, as the man would be in only a small part of the time, except one draftsman, and all that is desired is a public place where interested persons can confer with the engineers when necessary, and where some drafting can be done.

The placing of the headquarters in your city and county should be of some advantage to the city and county, and we trust that if space permits in the court house we may be allotted a room or a part of a room, and promise to inconvenience the county officials as slightly as possible.

Yours very truly,
WISCONSIN HIGHWAY COMMISSION
By A. R. Hirst, State Highway Engineer.

The Clerk read the communication from the State Highway Commission regarding the following addition to the system of prospective state highways, and on motion the same was referred to the State Aid Highway Committee.

Starting at the southeast corner of Sec. 36, Town 21, North, Range 2 East, and extending thence west one-half mile along the south section line of said section 36 (Town of Remington).

The next question presented was the power to take this money from the general fund and in my opinion it has no bearing on this question. While it is undoubtedly the rule that money raised for the special purposes "is a trust fund and equal to a proper case, it is not to be used in any other way." 143 Wis. at 647. Still, in the present case no attempt is made to divert any special fund. The County Board at the November session levied $5,000 for general purposes and from the report of the County Treasurer, there is sufficient of this general fund in the treasury to cover this appropriation and even if there were not, it would be inclined to the same opinion under the rule in the above case. At $6, where the court held that the power to incur the work given the board the power to later, levy the tax to pay for the same.

First. In justice to some of the members to whom I made an oral report yesterday, who were charged where the County does the work with the state's aid, the state pays one third and the County two-thirds. Section 1317 M-5, 1 and Section 1317 M-3, 1, the state never, under any case, paying over one third and it makes no difference whether the work is done by the County alone or by the County and Town.

Second. Under the ruling of the Attorney General, the state has no authority to authorize the county or town to loan the state its share of the cost and to receive the same back from the state after the state levy is made and under this ruling, any work done by the county this summer will be at the sole cost of the county without any aid from the state.

Yours very truly,
CHAS. E. BRIERE,
District Attorney, Wood Co.

On motion the report of the District Attorney was accepted and ordered spread at length upon the minutes.

REPORT OF THE COUNTY HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER. To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: Gentlemen:—In adopting a scheme as to how to get stone hauled this winter, I came to the conclusion that the best results would be secured by having the stone hauled to a landing place, at so much a cord. I went into the towns where macadamized work is to be done and with the co-operation of the Chairman I ascertained the scarcity and quality of stone, and after doing so I priced off what I would pay per cord delivered to the place of landing, and a man to measure and give a receipt for every load as it came. Same was in every instance agreed upon between myself and the Chairman.

On motion the report was accepted and referred to the State Aid Committee. Supervisor Williams moved that the Public Property Committee be authorized to purchase a desk for use of the Highway Commissioner. The motion was carried.

Such committee, together with the County Commissioner of State Highways, shall on the first day of May and the first day of November each year prepare and have printed, ready for distribution at the meetings of the Board in May and in November, a complete detailed statement of all work done, all cash received and expenditures made for the months preceding the date of making such report, and such report to the last report made, but the report for November first shall also contain a complete summary of the work done or the preceding year cash received and expenditures made. On motion of Supervisor Williams the Resolution was adopted.

By Special Committee: To the County Board of Wood County: We, the undersigned members of the special tract indices to whom the matter of investigating the tract indices was referred at the last meeting of the Board, will say that we have personally examined the tract indices in the office of the Register of Deeds and find that the same are unfit for use; that there are numerous mistakes and imperfections in the same; that the same have become worn, over crowded and unserviceable and that in our opinion, new tract indices should be ordered put in and the Government Subdivision in all city and village property should be divided under respective lots and blocks; that the leaves in the present books are all loose, bindings are broken and the leaves are liable to become lost or destroyed and it is a recommendation of your committee that new leaf tract indices be purchased and that a new and corrected set of indices be arranged and compiled according to this recommendation. Our reason for recommending the loose leaf books is first, as the indices grow additional leaves can be inserted at a nominal expense. Second, when the covers are worn, new covers can be obtained without the expense of sending the Register of Deeds to Milwaukee with the old volume and having the same rebound for under the law, he must accompany the book when rebound, his expense being borne by the County and your committee would recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Whereas, the existing tract indices in the office of the Register of Deeds have become unfit for use because of mistakes therein and the same being worn out, over crowded and unserviceable. Now, therefore, be it resolved that a new and corrected set of tract indices be arranged and compiled and that the committee of three members be appointed by the Chairman with full power to purchase suitable books therefor, and to contract with any competent person or persons at a price not exceeding five (5c) cents per folio to do said work, and the work to be done according to such plans as the committee may select. Dated May 8th, 1913. F. L. Rourke, D. J. Kraus, Wm. Hooper.

barn of Chas. Kokoski in the town of Carson was struck by lightning dur-

and burned to the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Matthews and family and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Matthews and family spent several days
in Green Bay last week where they went to attend the golden wedding of the Messrs. Matthews parents, the old people having been married half a century. They report having had a first class time, having many friends in Green Bay, where they formerly lived.

Victor Kronholm and Miss Ruth Newman of the town of Sigel, were united in wedlock Wednesday afternoon, May 28th, at two o'clock at the Bethesda Swedish Lutheran church,
the Rev. Julius A. Nordling officiating.
The church was nicely decorated and a well fitted relatives and friends of the parties concurred. Dinner was afterward served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Newman. The bride received many valuable presents.

Rev. Fred Staff preached his farewell sermon in this city on Sunday evening at a union meeting held at the Congregational church, and next morning took the early Northwestern train enroute for his new home in the west. Mrs. Staff and the children left last week, it being their intention to stop off and visit with relatives on their way out. It is seldom that a man leaves more friends, both in the church and out of it, than does Mr.
Staff here, and he has the best wishes
of them all in his new home.

AN ACCOMMODATING RAILWAY.
Soo Line Men Establishing a Reputation for Politeness.

Two months after mid-day.
The month was May.
The Stevens Point-Portage passen-
ger train sped merrily on.

An Endeavor lady was faring to the
Columbia County metropolis.
Mother Nature, clothed in all her
radiant spring-time attire, beckoned
closer companionship and the lady
yielded.

The window was lifted and the wo-
man with a happy and contented mind
world.

A gust of wind from the open window relieved her of her new spring
bonnet, fondly cherished, and whisked
it away among the fragrant wild flowers of the right-of-way.

She hastened to convey the sad news
to Conductor Hogan.
Life, with all the courtesy of a mil-
lionaire's servant, listened to her hurried and excited tale.

A quick jerk of the rope and the
train was stopped.
The lady made a hasty retreat after
the lost treasure.

Conductor Hogan lit his favorite
cobb, picked up a morning paper and looked deep into a cushioned seat.
The lady returned and the train once
more sped on.

Such is life in reality on the Soo,
where employees are instructed to be
courteous and accommodating to all passengers, lest they had discomfort in travel.

The which is the tale as related by venerable Editor Jim Browne of the Endeavor, Epitome.

SALVE.
"Take it from me," said Farmer Brown
"You never kin capitalize a frown.
The man who gets by in bang-up style
some smile."

The best business asset fer to have
is a large supply of good old salve.
The feller with his shoes shined up
and neat
And a good clean shave and a smile
that's sweet.

Is the man for business, you'll agree.
He can charm a bird out'n a tree.
Of course his compliments ain't all true
If he spreads it on and he spreads it
thick.

He'll get your goat and he'll get it
quick.
It's a feller comes 'round with a dark
brown look.
And tries to sell a new-fangled book.
Or a vacuum cleaner or a kitchen sink
You'll show him the door, yes, quick-
er'n a wink.

For we ain't got no time for the
grouch's frown.
And the feller who wears it'll git
turned down.
The feller who works'll win after
awhile.
But you'll get there quicker if you
work and smile.—Exchange.

Money in Dandelions.
The large market gardens of the area are cultivating the dandelion
plants for commercial purposes, and
the sale of the "greens" is very profit-
able. The seeds should be sown this
spring, as early as possible, and given
the same cultivation accorded to car-
rots except they require thinning to
ten inches apart. Next spring the
leaves will be ready to use, and should
be blanched by placing a covering of boards or similar materials over the rows. The cultivated kinds are much
more tender and less bitter than the
wild ones. In forcing beds the seeds
may be started and when large enough
transplanted to the garden rows.
Forcing plants is not recommended,
as the plant should have one year's growth before being used. The seeds
dandelions are much liked, and are
valuable as table supplies in the
spring. The cultivated plant should have a rich, sandy loam, but will
grow well in good garden soil. Like
the radish, it must grow rapidly to be
good and tender.

Bryan Tells Graduates Faith is Necessary.
"I fear the plutocracy of wealth, I
respect the aristocracy of learning, and
said Secretary of State William J.
Bryan on Tuesday in a speech at the
graduating exercises of Mrs. Merrill's
school at New Rochelle, N. Y.

Mr. Bryan labelled his address
"Faith" and spoke of the impossibility of doing anything without this quality.

"The only thing I fear in education,"
until he becomes ashamed of those to whom he was formerly attached. I would rather the head were dull than
the heart cold."

SCANDAL MENAGERS BE CAREFUL.
Attacks on the Reputations of Others
Unpunishable.

Necedar Republican.—At last the
cherished endeavor of the village
gossip is doomed. The man or woman who states and knifes the reputation
of others by peddling stories around
town, is apt to get into trouble according to a law recently passed by
the legislature, and signed by the governor. The bill provides as follows:

The amendment, which covers spoken
scandal, says: "Any person who shall maliciously speak of or concerning any person in false or defamatory
words or language, which shall injure
or impair the reputation of such per-
son of virtue or chastity, or which
shall expose him to hatred, contempt
or ridicule, shall be guilty of a mis-
demeanor."

The law provides that all such slan-
ders shall be deemed malicious if no
justification can be shown, and that
they shall be justifiable when the language charged was true and spoken
with good motive and for justifiable
of two persons is necessary.

The bill amends the libel law so that
persons who slander maliciously come
year or a $250 fine.

Isn't that law going to be just terrible to the chronicers who love to smear
slander? We don't suppose the new
law will stop the industrious muck
slingers entirely, but it gives the victim of the affair a chance to come back
and get the satisfaction that rightly
belongs to him. Of course this will not apply in Necedar, but we presume
New Lisbon and Friendship and other
towns have gossipers who congregate
for the purpose of peddling the latest
slander obtainable.

WORN OUT METHODS OF

CHIROPRACTIC ADJUST-
MENT IS THE ONLY WAY

F. T. HOFF,
Graduate Chiropractor.

Deepest of all desires in the
soul of man is the desire of freedom—which is the desire of life
at its fullest and best. Men and women do not desire merely the
freedom which makes life possible, but the freedom which makes life desirable—Perfect
health. Here are a few of the
many hundreds of diseases that
my Chiropractic adjustments re-
move the cause of—the cause
once removed disease cannot exist and thus nature will restore
you to perfect health again.

Disease, Stomach Troubles, Liver Troubles, Epilepsy, Fits, Paralysis, Rheumatism, Lumbago,
Sciatica, Eruptions, Muscular
Troubles, Etc.

Do not get discouraged if your
particular case is not mentioned
here as my Chiropractic Adjust-
ments will remove the cause of
all conditions since the primary
cause of all your ailments is due
to pressure on nerves from the spine. We remove the cause by
adjusting the displaced bones
back towards normal thus allowing free flow of nerve force
from the brain and spinal cord
thru the spinal nerves to the organs supplied by the pinched
nerves.

If you suffer with any of these
diseases or any other disease,
don't continue to suffer fate.
We stand ready to demonstrate that Chiropractic adjustments will insure
you more positive and lasting benefit
than any other system of eradicating
either acute or chronic ailments.
WHY? Because it goes direct to the
Chiropractic Science says, "Remove

world? THERE'S A REASON. Why
are they still seeking relief? THERE'S
A REASON. When Chiropractic opens
up the avenue to health why do they become boasters? There's another reason. The people Chiroprac-
tic can do nothing for are—those
who are prejudiced and won't try it;
those who have been sick for years
and expect to get well in a week, and
those who would not be happy if they
couldn't complain. To all others we
say, try Chiropractic and get well.

The way is open—all you need to do
is to come to my office and investigate
my Chiropractic Science. I will explain to you how Nature will restore
you to health again.

Remember, I do not ask you,
I what is the matter with you,
I will tell you what your troubles
are. Call or write for my pamphlet on the cause of disease and
its removal. Consultation and
spinal analysis is free.

The Journal of the previous meeting was on motion approved as read.

The next question presented is the power to take this money from the general fund and in my opinion there is no bearing on this question. While it is undoubtedly the rule of the law that money raised for the special purposes "is a trust fund and equity will in a proper case interfere to prevent its diversion." 143 Wis. at 647. Still, in the present case no attempt is made to divert any special fund. The County Board at the November session levied $5,000 for general purposes and from the report of the County Treasurer, there is sufficient of this general fund in the treasury to cover this appropriation and even if there were not be inclined to the same opinion under the rule in the above case, 100 Wis. at 85, where the court held that the power to incur the work given the board the power to later, levy the tax to pay for the same.

First. In justice to some of the members to whom I made an oral report yesterday, will state that where the County does the work with the state's aid, the state pays one third and the County two-thirds. Section 1317 M-5, 1 and Section 1317 M-8, 1, the state never, under any case paying over one third and it makes no difference whether the work is done by the County alone or by the County and Town.

Second. Under the ruling of the Attorney General, the state has no authority to authorize the county or town to loan the state its share of the cost and to receive the same back from the state after the state levy is made and under this ruling, any work done by the county this summer will be at the sole cost of the county without any aid from the state.

Yours very truly,
CHAS. E. BRIERE,
District Attorney, Wood Co.

NEW LAWS.
The law regulating the sizes of
trunks that will be carried free as
baggage has gone into effect. Here-
after trunks more than 45 inches in
size any way will be subject to an
inches in size any way will not be
carried at all, but must be sent by express or freight.

A change has been made in marriage laws of the state, and hereafter
when a person gets a marriage license
from the county clerk, he will have to
make an affidavit to the following:
"that neither of them have been divorced by a decree of any court of the state within one year prior to the date
of such application; that neither of
them is epileptic, insane or idiotic;
that the parties applying are not with-
in the prohibited degree of consanguinity." The affidavit is much stronger than it has been in the past.

According to press reports the post-
master general has ordered the dis-
continuance of the custom of stamp-
ing the date of receipt on letters on
the back. Hereafter when the local postmaster received a letter on Monday and the addressee did not receive it until the following Friday it was customary to stamp into the outside lobes of the postoffice and shake your fist at one of the clerks and call him
by his or her proper name, but since
this custom has been discontinued it
will be impossible to saddle the delay
onto anybody in particular, so there
will be no use in kicking.

The C. O. D. feature of the parcel
post law will go into effect on July 1, 1912. The sender of a mailable parcel
upon which the postage is fully pre-
and the charges thereon collected from the addressee on payment of a fee
of ten cents in parcel post stamps
affixed, provided that the amount to
be collected does not exceed $100. Such
a parcel will be insured against loss,
without equivalent to its actual value, but not to exceed $50. The sender
of a C. O. D. parcel will be given a receipt showing the office and date of
mailing, the number of the parcel and
the amount due him. C. O. D. parcels
will be accepted for mailing at money order postoffices only and when the office of destination is a money order
office. On delivery of the parcel the amount due the sender will be collected together with a sufficient fee for a money order by which method the

"Devils of Diplomacy."
French papers say that the Italians,
successors to Machiavelli, are very
devils of diplomacy, and in coming
left no end of trouble for that unhappy country. These papers say that
the Italians have not spared to sow
the seeds of discord between the Arabs of Tripoli and the Turks, that
the Arabs have long been distrustful
of the Turkish troops and have threatened to slaughter them to the last
man if they attempt to leave the coun-
try to its enemies and that the government at Constantinople will hardly know how to withdraw its little
army from Africa.

AN ACCOMMODATING RAILWAY.

800 Line Men Establishing a Reputation for Politicians.

'Twas shortly after mid-day.
The month was May.
The Stevens Point-Portage passen-
ger train sped merrily on.

Columbia County metropolis.

Mother Nature, clothed in all her
radiant spring-time attire, beckoned
closer companionship and the lady
yielded.

The window was lifted and the wo-
man with a happy and contented mind
world.

A gust of wind from the open window relieved her of her new spring
bonnet, fondly cherished, and whisked
it away among the fragrant wild flowers of the right-of-way.

She hastened to convey the sad news
to Conductor Hogan.

He, with all the courtesy of a mil-
lionaire's servant, listened to her hurried and excited tale.

A quick jerk of the rope and the
train was stopped.

The lady made a hasty retreat after
the lost treasure.

Conductor Hogan lit his favorite
cob, picked up a morning paper and sank deep into a cushioned seat.

The lady returned and the train once
more sped on.

Such is life in reality on the Soo,
where employees are instructed to be
courteous and accommodating to all
patrons, lest they find discomfort in
travel.

The which is the tale as related by versacious Editor Jim Browne of the Endeavor Epitome.

SALVE.
"Take it from me," said Farmer Brown
"You never kin capitalize a frown.
The man who gets by in bang-up style
some smile."

The best business asset fer to have
is a large supply of good old salve.
The feller with his shoes shined up
and neat.

And a good clean shave and a smile
that's sweet.

Is the man for business, you'll agree.
He can charm a bird out'n a tree,
Of course his compliments aint all true
If he spreads it on and he spreads it
thick.

He'll get your goat and he'll get it
quick.

If a feller comes 'round with a dark
brown look,
And tries to sell a new-fangled book,
Or a vacuum cleaner or a kitchen sink
You'll show him the door, yes, quick-
er'n a wink.

For we ain't got no time for the
grouch's frown
And the feller who wears it'll git
turned down.

The feller who works'll win after
awhile,
But you'll get there quicker if you
work and smile." —Exchange.

Money in Dandelions.
The large market gardens of the
east are cultivating the dandelion
plants for commercial purposes, and
the sale of the "greens" is very profitable. The seeds should be sown this spring, as early as possible, and given
the same cultivation accorded to car-
rots except they require thinning to
ten inches apart. Next spring the
leaves will be ready to use, and should
be blanched by placing a covering of
boards, or other materials over the
rows. The cultivated kinds are much
more tender and less bitter than the
wild ones. In forcing beds the seeds
may be started and when large enough
transplanted to the garden rows.
Forcing plants is not recommended,
as the plant should have one year's
growth before being used. The field
dandelions are much liked, and are
valuable as table supplies in the spring. The cultivated plant should have a rich, sandy loam, but will
grow well in good garden soil. Like
the radish, it must grow rapidly to be
good and tender.

Bryan Tells Graduates Faith is Necessary.

"I fear the plutocracy of wealth, I
respect the aristocracy of learning, and
said Secretary of State William J.
Bryan on Tuesday in a speech at the
graduating exercises of Mrs. Merrill's
school at New Rochelle, N. Y.

Mr. Bryan labelled his address
"Faith" and spoke of the impossibility of doing anything without this quality.

"The only thing I fear in education,"
until he becomes ashamed of those to
whom he was formerly attached. I would rather the head were dull than
the heart cold."

and went clear through it.

SCANDAL MANAGERS BE CAREFUL.

Unpunishable.

Necedah Republican.—At last the cherished endeavors of the village
gossip is doomed! The man or woman
who stabs and knives the reputation
of others by peddling stories around
town, is apt to get into trouble according to a law recently passed by
the legislature, and signed by the governor. The bill provides as follows:

The amendment, which covers spoken
shame, reads: "Any person who shall maliciously speak of or concerning any person in fact of defamatory
words or language, which shall injure
or impair the reputation of such per-
son of virtue or chastity, or which
shall expose him to hatred, contempt
or ridicule, shall be guilty of a mis-
demeanor."

The law provides that all such slan-
ders shall be deemed malicious if no
justification can be shown, and that
they shall be justifiable when the language charged as slander, false or
defamatory, was true and spoken
with good motive and for justifiable
ends. For conviction, the evidence
of two persons is necessary.

The bill amends the libel law so that
persons who slander maliciously come
under the penalties of the libel statute
and are liable to imprisonment for one
year or a $250 fine.

Isn't that law going to be just terrible to the chronic who love to smear
slander? We don't suppose the new law will stop the industrious gossip
slingers entirely, but it gives the victim of the affair a chance to come back
and get the satisfaction that rightly
belongs to him. Of course this will not apply in Necedah, but we presume
New Lisbon and Friendship and other
towns have gossipers who congregate
for the purpose of peddling the latest
slander obtainable.

makes life desirable—Perfect
health. Here are a few of the
many hundreds of diseases that
my Chiropractic adjustments re-
move the cause of—the cause
once removed disease cannot exist and thus nature will restore
you to perfect health again.

Disease, Stomach Troubles, Kidney and Bladder Diseases, Liver Troubles, Epilepsy, or Fits, Paraly-
sis, Rheumatism, Lumbago,
Sciatica, Eruptions, Muscular
Troubles, Etc.

Do not get discouraged if your
particular case is not mentioned
here as my Chiropractic Adjust-
ments will remove the cause of
all conditions since the primary
cause of all your ailments is due
to pressure on nerves in the spine. We remove the cause by adjusting the displaced bones
back towards normal, thus allowing free flow of nerve force
from the brain and spinal cord
thru the spinal nerves to the organs supplied by the pinched
nerves.

If you suffer with any of these
diseases or any other disease,
don't continue to berate late.

We stand ready to demonstrate that Chiropractic Adjustments will insure
you more positive and lasting benefit
than any other system of cradling
either acute or chronic ailments.
WHY? Because it goes direct to the
cause instead of treating the effect.
Chiropractic Science says, "Remove
the cause if you want to get well."

world? THERE'S A REASON. Why
are they still seeking relief? THERE'S
A REASON. When Chiropractic opens
up the avenue to health why do they become hoisters? There's another reason. The people Chiropractic can do nothing for are—those
who are prejudiced and won't try it;
those who have been sick for years
and expect to get well in a week, and
those who would not be happy if they couldn't complain. To all others we
say, try Chiropractic and get well.

The way is open—all you need to do
is to come to my office and investigate
my Chiropractic Science. I will explain to you how Nature will restore
you to health again.

Remember, I do not ask you
what is the matter with you, I
will tell you what your troubles
are. Call or write for my pamphlet on the cause of disease and
its removal. Consultation and
spinal analysis is free.

Did You Ever

Have Jim Howell give you the callous cure and tell you to move on. It's moving time right then and there with me. I never was much of a hand for trouble and I'm a good one at a foot race.

If you want to keep trouble on the "long distance" you'd better use our Asphalt Roof Paints. If you use some of the dope that's sold for paint nowadays—the kind that cracks and scales off—you'll want to hire a policeman to give you a good beating.

You ought to have your roof re-painted this spring and you better drop in with an order.

Reminiscences of the Horse Trader.
(By D. L. George.)
John Soriano of Central Iowa had been an itinerant horse trader. For years he had plied his trade through the "dolls" at Grand Rapids, and the "central" state, finding, ever and anon, susceptible victims who succumbed before the wile of clever artifice, skillfully concealed, and purchased some of John's temporarily repaired mongrels. Soriano is proud of his skill in doctoring and doping worthless horses into "presentable animals," and quite the reverse of the general run of his tribe, will talk about the subtleties and "tricks" he employed in hoodwinking a credulous public.
"One of my best stunts," said John, was to "infect" with air the atrophied shoulder of a sweated horse. The shoulder would be rounded out and look as strong and healthy as the only way, one could doctor, this defective was by a crackling sound which resulted when one would run his hand over the repaired part.
"I never shall forget the deal I put over on some Illinois farmers who desired to purchase a pure-bred stallion and form a co-operative community breeding club," continued the gypsy. "The previous fall I had picked up a good grade Percheron and had taken fine care of him during the winter so that he was in spick-span shape for spring service. Through a friend of mine, I obtained an elegant new certificate of the French Percheron Society all covered with gold seals and blue ribbons which fitted my stallion to a T. The jay-hawkers from the South State took a look at that pedigree and had carefully examined and tested the stud, and then handed me a check for $2500. Pretty sharp practice I call that when you can buy a horse for $500, keep him over winter and sell him for $2500 the next spring. The joke is, to this day those farmers are not wise to the ringer they purchased."
"It is a common trick of our trade to use fake pedigrees. By changing the number or by buying a bunch of fake pedigrees from France we were always able to materially increase a drafter's value. Another gill-edged proposition was to buy up the pedigrees of dead stallions and mares and use them for bogus halibuts which corresponded in general conformation quality and size to the animals described in the documents."
Tacking on a counterfeit tail where the original was scrubby and delapidated; cutting out a nerve to remedy lameness; changing a horse's color by a judicious use of dyes; doping up a blind eye so that the average prospective purchaser would not notice the defect; temporarily remedying stringhalt, distemper, blind staggers, cribbing, roaring, switching; including artificial knee action and many similar corrective measures are practiced by the dishonest gypsy or unscrupulous horse trader.

Being interested in the schools of our county, and especially in our county graduates of the public schools and as the pupils who have taken this diploma examination will not be notified of their work done, whether they have passed or not, as I took up my home paper "The Morrison, Ill., Sentinel," and read the account of the crowds who witnessed the graduation exercises of county graduates, 1200 being present, I wished that our county graduates had this same chance to "show themselves off" and I know they can give as good an account of themselves as the boys and girls did there. The graduation exercises can be made self supporting and can be arranged very easily. The graduates each giving a quotation but the two who receive the highest average to prepare short essays, some music and singing by someone outside the school, a short address by some educator, making a very pleasant afternoon, which will be enjoyed by all and will always be remembered as a bright day in their lives. I hope our Supt. Mr. Varney will take this up and arrange for a graduation day for the diploma graduates by the last of June.

Land of Our Forefathers.
For myself I can truly say that after my native land I feel a tenderness and a reverence for that of my fathers. The pride I take in my country makes me respect that from which we are sprung. The sound of my native language beyond the sea is a music to my ears beyond the richest strains of Tuscan softness or Castilian majesty.
I am not—I need not say I am not—the panegyrist of England. I am not dazzled by her riches nor awed by her power. The scepter, the miter and the coronet, stars, garters and ribbons seem to me poor things for great men to contend for.
But England is the cradle and the refuge of free principles, though often persecuted; the school of religious liberty, the more precious for the struggles through which it has passed; she holds the tombs of those who have reflected honor on all who speak the English tongue; she is the birthplace of our fathers, the home of the Pilgrims; it is these which I love and venerate in England.
I should feel ashamed of an enthusiasm for Italy and Greece did I not also feel it for a land like this. In an American it would seem to be degenerate and unattractive to hang with passion upon the traces of Homer and Virgil and follow without emotion the nearer and plainer footsteps of Shakespeare and Milton. I should think him cold in love for his native land who felt no melting in his heart for that other native country which holds the ashes of his forefathers.—Edward Everett.

The rapid increase in distill knowledge has created a desire to replace dyspepsia-producing animal fats, the products of the slaughter house, with a pure vegetable oil for culinary purposes. Much of the superiority of French and Italian cooking is due to the use of olive and other vegetable oils. This is one reason why the French and Italians will never be classed as a race of dyspeptics.
Since 1900 the Southern Cotton Oil Company, using exclusively the Wesson process in refining its oils, has been enabled to offer in the well known Wesson Oil, a chemically pure, odorless and tasteless product, suitable for all culinary purposes.

The Irresistible Power of Small, Regular Savings.
Do you remember Wilkins' Mice-eaters economic summary? In effect it was this: Income $100 a year, outgo $99.95—result, happiness. But, income $100, outgo $100.05—result, misery. It seems impossible to many that a nickel, one way or the other, can make any difference. But the extraordinary power of the regular savings of any small amount of money cannot be appreciated until you do a little figuring. Suppose, for example, you saved and put away five cents a day, depositing each dollar in this bank as fast as you saved it, and receiving 3 per cent interest compounded twice a year. In ten years that nickel a day would be $214.12 in ready cash to your credit, and that account would be rolling up like a snow ball. And if you could do this with a nickel a day, what could you do with ten cents a day, or a dollar a week?
Get one of these Home Savings Banks and try. You will be happily surprised.
